MISSIONARY CONVENTION

OPENING SESSION HELD LAST NIGHT

The First Methodist Episcopal Church Was Filled With a Large Audience.

THE ADDRESS OF WELCOME

FULL LIST OF DELEGATES

The first session of the Women's Foreign Missionary society was held last night in the M. E. church. The church was crowded with delegates and friends, and the meeting was very interesting.

The session was opened with a short song service, followed by prayer by Mrs. Creighton. Mrs. Davis, the president, read the 96th and 100th Psalms, after which Dr. Crawford, assisted by Dr. Holtz, of Wellsville, and Rev. Orcutt, of the Second church, administered the sacrament of the Lord's supper.

Address of Welcome.

Miss Stella McNutt, of the local society, welcomed the visiting delegates in a very happy manner. The lady said it was customary on all occasions of this character to have an address of welcome, and that she had been chosen for that duty principally because she was not fitted for anything else. The person making the welcome address was supposed to say little else than welcome, consequently no one of any importance was ever assigned to that work. Of course that didn't apply to anyone other than herself. There was always a firstly, secondly and thirdly in addresses of welcome, but when all was said they each meant welcome. She welcomed them not only on behalf of the congregation of the First M. E. church, but in the name of all the denominations of the city. The speaker here related an instance of where a member of another congregation had insisted upon entertaining some of the visitors. So, when all the people had a word of welcome, it was hardly necessary for her to add anything.

The lady made mention of the strong desire on the part of the local society to have everything in perfect order for the reception and entertainment of their guests, especially in the arrangement of the church decorations and provisions for the comfort of the members of the society.

The speaker closed her address with the proposition that all indulge in an old Methodist hand shake. She said: "I am going to shake hands with Mrs. Davis here, and I want everyone to shake hands with their neighbor."

Response of Mrs. Eddy, of Berea.

Mrs. S. W. Eddy, of Berea, O., responded to the address of welcome and in a few well chosen words thanked the members of the local society and members of the church generally for their cordial welcome.

The lady is a speaker of rare ability and her address was listened to with rapt attention. The remainder of the lady's remarks were along the line of the work in hand, and dealt with the self-sacrifice that should be made in order that the work of the Master might be carried out more effectively in foreign lands.

While attending the University of Baltimore some 20 years ago, the message had come to her, and from that time to the present the tenth of her income had gone to the Master. She made an eloquent appeal for more funds to carry on the work in foreign lands.

Rev. Clancy, of India, had been in the North Ohio conference recently, and from him it was learned of the true state of affairs now existing in his field of labor. But the great need of more funds was the draw back. There were 2,000 or 3,000 consecrated young men and women who were ready and willing to enter the missionary field, but the treasury was empty. They should not need to increase the personal contributions, what was more important is the necessity of interesting more people in the work. The churches that were already established in India supported themselves. The crying need was for funds to widen the work; to spread the gospel in new fields. The speaker related the instance of one native minister in India for an example of the devotion of the converted population. They were gathering funds for the establishment of new missions in the outlying districts. The man had no money, but came forward and took off his coat and contributed that for the advancement of the work.

She had wondered, especially in the last few days, if the poor native was to outdo her in devotion. She had given the tenth to the Master for years. Through a short period of happy wedded life and during some 14 years of widowhood, with the cares attendant upon the rearing of two children, she had continued the contribution of the tenth. The sacrifice had not been too great. She had never been in want. Still she felt it was not enough and proposed adopting a new plan. She would do more. She was going to give until it hurt, and then keep on giving until it didn't hurt.

The speaker exhorted all to go back home with the firm resolve to give at least the tenth to the Master's work.

The lady closed with a reference to the immortal Nathan Hale, whose only regret was that he had but one life to give for his country. Like him she regretted she had but one life to give to God.

Mrs. Clara Zink, of Steubenville, rendered the solo, "Rock of Ages," in a pleasing manner, after which Mrs. C. W. Barnes, secretary of the branch, announced that all delegates who had not been provided with quarters should call at the assigning table in the lecture room, where the matter would be attended to.

The president noted the presence of the men in attendance, assuring them they would be heartily welcomed at all sessions of the convention.

Dr. Crawford pronounced the benediction, and the remainder of the evening was given over to a reception, in which all participated.

THE MORNING SESSION.

Several Committees Were Appointed And Much Business Transacted.

This morning's session opened promptly at 9:30 o'clock, the devotional exercises being in charge of the president, Mrs. Davis, who read for the scripture lesson Matthew 26 6-13. This was followed by an experience meeting, in which the sisters quoted hymns and gospel verses, which had been helpful to them during the past year.

After the reading of the rules of order the time for closing the morning session was placed at 12:30. The delegates were then introduced and seated, East Ohio conference leading in number of delegates present.

Miss Rue Sellers, of India, and Dr. Donahue, of China, were then introduced, after which the following committees were appointed:

Enrollment—Miss Bramble and Miss Dunlap.

Resolutions—Mrs. B. F. Jackson, Mrs. Dr. Hillman, Mrs. Blakeley.

Nomination of delegates to general executive committee—Cincinnati conference, Mrs. E. T. Brewster; Ohio conference, Mrs. M. P. Adams; Central Ohio conference, Mrs. Payne; North Ohio conference, Mrs. K. A. Weber; East Ohio conference, Mrs. Woodruff; West Virginia, Mrs. J. T. Ross; Kentucky, Mrs. Robson.

Mrs. Philip Roetinger was appointed a committee on investments and wills, and Mrs. E. T. Brewster and Mrs. Carr will act temporarily with Mrs. John Mitchell on the committee on by-laws.

Mrs. Hendershot was appointed to report a plan by which the young people's work can be made more effective. The branch treasurer made several suggestions in reference to the manner in which reports should be sent to her.

On motion it was decided to omit the detailed report of the treasurer from the "Friend," and print it in the Branch Quarterly.

Article 3 of the constitution was referred to the committee on by-laws, as some changes were deemed necessary.

Miss Grace Dawson rendered a beautiful solo, entitled "A Dream of Paradise."

Mrs. E. S. Emerson, of the Cincinnati conference, presented an interesting report of the year, which showed the receipts to be $14,547 53.

The conference report of the Tennessee division was read by the secretary, Mrs. Barnes.

Miss Sellers was then introduced and talked very interestingly on "Conditions in India." In the course of her remarks she reported that there were 110,000 Methodists in India and 450 schools.

In the absence of Mrs. Orville Townsend, Dr. Donahue spoke eloquently on the subject of literature, recommending various leaflets and books as excellent for instruction.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. William McRea.

A PRETTY SIGHT.

The Decorations at the First M. E. Church Are Very Handsome.

Those in charge of the decorations at the First M. E. church have true artistic taste. The effect is very pleasing. The floral display is a very handsome one. The inscription in front of the organ attracts immediate attention on entering the room. It reads: "For God and Home and Every Land." You have a special invitation to attend the convention. Accept it. You can, if you will, have rich reward. The Master is in company with these noble Christian women.

Convention Notes.

Miss Stella McNutt, our young townswoman, made a neat address of welcome at the First M. E. church last night, and the response by Mrs. S. W. Eddy, of Berea, was a gem of the first water from the standpoint of the missionary heart and spirit.

Christian life and character speaks in the human face in unmistakable manner. Do you doubt it? The doubt will be dispelled if you attend the sessions of the Woman's Foreign Missionary convention now being held in East Liverpool; and the Christian women will be very glad to greet you.

Response of Mrs. Eddy, of Berea.

Mrs. S. W. Eddy, of Berea, O., responded to the address of welcome and in a few well chosen words thanked the members of the local society and members of the church generally for their cordial welcome.

The lady is a speaker of rare ability and her address was listened to with rapt attention. The remainder of the lady's remarks were along the line of the work in hand, and dealt

She was going to give until it hurt, and then keep on giving until it didn't hurt.

The speaker exhorted all to go back home with the firm resolve to give at least the tenth to the Master's work.

The lady closed with a reference to the immortal Nathan Hale, whose only regret was that he had but one life to give for his country. Like him she regretted she had but one life to give to God.

Mrs. Clara Zink, of Steubenville, rendered the solo, "Rock of Ages," in a pleasing manner, after which Mrs. C. W. Barnes, secretary of the branch, announced that all delegates who had not been provided with quarters should call at the assigning table in the lecture room, where the matter would be attended to.

The president noted the presence of the men in attendance, assuring them they would be heartily welcomed at all sessions of the convention.

Dr. Crawford pronounced the benediction, and the remainder of the evening was given over to a reception, in which all participated.

THE MORNING SESSION.

Several Committees Were Appointed And Much Business Transacted.

This morning's session opened promptly at 9:30 o'clock, the devotional exercises being in charge of the president, Mrs. Davis, who read for the scripture lesson Matthew 26 6-13. This was followed by an experience meeting, in which the sisters quoted hymns and gospel verses, which had been helpful to them during the past year.

After the reading of the rules of order the time for closing the morning session was placed at 12:30. The delegates were then introduced and seated, East Ohio conference leading in number of delegates present.

Miss Rue Sellers, of India, and Dr. Donahue, of China, were then introduced, after which the following committees were appointed:

Resolutions—Mrs. B. F. Jackson, Mrs. Dr. Hillman, Mrs. Blakeley.

Nomination of delegates to general executive committee—Cincinnati conference, Mrs. E. T. Brewster; Ohio conference, Mrs. M. P. Adams; Central Ohio conference, Mrs. Payne; North Ohio conference, Mrs. K. A. Weber; East Ohio conference, Mrs. Woodruff; West Virginia, Mrs. J. T. Ross; Kentucky, Mrs. Robson.

Mrs. Philip Roetinger was appointed a committee on investments and wills, and Mrs. E. T. Brewster and Mrs. Carr will act temporarily with Mrs. John Mitchell on the committee on by-laws.

Mrs. Hendershot was appointed to report a plan by which the young people's work can be made more effective. The branch treasurer made several suggestions in reference to the manner in which reports should be sent to her.

On motion it was decided to omit the detailed report of the treasurer from the "Friend," and print it in the Branch Quarterly.

Article 3 of the constitution was referred to the committee on by-laws, as some changes were deemed necessary.

Mrs. E. S. Emerson, of the Cincinnati conference, presented an interesting report of the year, which showed the receipts to be $14,547 53.

The conference report of the Tennessee division was read by the secretary, Mrs. Barnes.

Miss Sellers was then introduced and talked very interestingly on "Conditions in India." In the course of her remarks she reported that there were 110,000 Methodists in India and 450 schools.

In the absence of Mrs. Orville Townsend, Dr. Donahue spoke eloquently on the subject of literature, recommending various leaflets and books as excellent for instruction.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. William McRea.

A PRETTY SIGHT.

The Decorations at the First M. E. Church Are Very Handsome.

Those in charge of the decorations at the First M. E. church have true artistic taste. The effect is very pleasing. The floral display is a very handsome one. The inscription in front of the organ attracts immediate attention on entering the room. It reads: "For God and Home and Every Land." You have a special invitation to attend the convention. Accept it. You can, if you will, have rich reward. The Master is in company with these noble Christian women.

Convention Notes.

Miss Stella McNutt, our young townswoman, made a neat address of welcome at the First M. E. church last night, and the response by Mrs. S. W. Eddy, of Berea, was a gem of the first water from the standpoint of the missionary heart and spirit.

Christian life and character speaks in the human face in unmistakable manner. Do you doubt it? The doubt will be dispelled if you attend the sessions of the Woman's Foreign Missionary convention now being held in East Liverpool; and the Christian women will be very glad to greet you.

OUR "DEAR BOY" LETTER. NO. 9

The Old Gentleman Gives His Son
Some Advice About His Ballot.

THE LAD'S DUTY TO VOTE

His Daddy Tells Him That No
American Voter Should Stay
Away From the Polls.

AND HIS FATHER WAS RIGHT

Every Republican in old Columbiana county should read this letter and take the good advice given:

My Dear Boy—You say that you are tired of working for old man Skinner, and are thinking of going west this fall, where wages are higher. You ask what I think about it.

Well, I have no objection to your going west, but I don't want you to go until after the election. This is the first time in your life that you ever had an opportunity to exercise your right as an American citizen in voting for a president of the United States.
I don't want you to lose your vote for the following reasons:

1. The only possible chance of the election of Bryan comes from the over-confidence of Republicans. It makes me sad to hear a man say: "Oh, McKinley is going to be elected, any-
how. There is no danger. I have arrangements made to be in California in November, but you won't need my vote."

Especially do I regret to hear talk of this kind among some of the railroad men. If any class of men ought to come up unanimously to the support of McKinley and the Republican party, that class is composed of the railroad men of this country. Four years ago there were thousands of cars sidetracked, no building and but little repairing going on, and general stagnation in the railroad business.
Now new roads, new roadbeds, new cars, the cars crowded with trains, full time and better pay bless the railroad men of this country. And it vexes me to hear a railroad man say:
"I would have to lay off a day to vote,
and I guess I'll not do that. There will be plenty to elect McKinley without me." Well, if by any possibility McKinley should be defeated, just such men as that will have themselves to blame.

2. No American voter has any right to stay away from the polls or to lose his vote if it can possibly be avoided.

My son, you are one of the sovereigns of the United States, and you have no more right to neglect the duties pertaining to your high calling than the emperor of Germany has to neglect the government of that mighty empire. To vote is a matter of inestimable privilege, and also a matter of earnest, conscientious duty.

Two years ago you enlisted to fight for your country as a soldier, but the surgeon turned you down and would not let you go. I sympathized with you in the bitterness of your disappointment. I knew that love of country led you to enlist, and I was proud because you wanted to go. And I think that the surgeon was a little over-particular. You would have made a good soldier. But I want you to realize that you serve your country as fully when you cast an honest ballot
as if you were a soldier in the fight.
Perhaps you can do more good with the ballot than you could with the gun. Your country did not seem to need you as a soldier, but your country does need you in the realm of citizenship.

3. No matter how long you may live, you will never have an opportunity to vote for better men than this year. We have a magnificent ticket.
McKinley and Roosevelt! What a superb combination. They are both statesmen and both heroes, one of the great civil war and one of the war for the deliverance of Cuba. McKinley, steady, earnest, thoughtful, calm, kind and faithful; Roosevelt, impetuous, but efficient, brave and dashing, with both moral and physical courage. Was there ever a better ticket or one which more thoroughly commands the respect, the confidence and the affection of the American people?

If you don't stay and vote you will be sorry for it 20 years from now.
Make some sacrifice for your country's sake. Oh, my boy, you must not go until the election is over. And when in November the ballots fall

"As Snowflakes fall upon the sod,
And execute the freedman's will,
As lightning does the will of God,"
Cast your vote and then sleep sweetly that night, with a sense of duty faithfully done. YOUR FATHER.

REV. CARSON.

He Will Preach His Farewell Sermon
in the A. M. E. Church Sunday Night.

Rev. Carson returned from the annual conference at Oxford, Ohio, last evening. Bishop B. Arnett was in charge. Conference was in session five days, closing last Sunday night.
About 75 churches were represented.
East Liverpool made the best showing in the conference, according to membership. Rev. Carson will go to Urbana, Ohio. We are very glad to note that this is a good appointment, one of the best in the North Ohio conference. Rev. John Mason, late of Finley, Ohio, will assume charge of the East Liverpool circuit. He is said to be a good and strong man. He was here some 12 years ago, and assisted in digging for the foundation of the present church structure.

Rev. Carson will preach his farewell sermon at this point next Sunday night. The reverend gentleman, accompanied by his helpmate and four boys, will leave for their new station next Wednesday. They will take with them the good wishes of a host of citizens of East Liverpool. Rev. Carson and his noble wife have, under the blessing of the Master, been a power for good in this community.
They will have their reward in due time. God speed them, is the wish of the News Review.

LOOKED AFTER AT COUNCIL

Some Things That Were Disposed of
Without Long Drawn Out
Discussions.

Arnold and Cripps were the only members of council absent last night, and the meeting was called to order at 7:40 o'clock and adjourned at 9:15.

President Marshall reported that the ordinance committee were not ready to make a report on the vehicle ordinance, as there were many things they had to look into before presenting it to council.

An ordinance to pave Rural lane,
from Jackson street to lot 504, was passed and the clerk will advertise for bids.

The question of Prospect street was brought up again and it was the sense of council that the board of education should put the street in passable condition.

Marshall asked if the Rock Springs
Railway company had ever presented their check for the $880 due the city.
As they haven't the clerk was instructed to go after Attorney McDonald and get the amount.

Charles Swan is blockading a sidewalk on Pennsylvania avenue with some stone. The street commissioner
will order him to remove the stone,
and if he don't do it the city will do
the work and charge it to him.

C. Metsch was given permission to erect scales in Hague alley, between
Third and Fourth streets.

Commissioner Bryan reported that
the owner of the Fourth street sidewalk that was lower than the rest
refused to raise it, and Peach, Cripps
and Marshall make up a special committee that will try to straighten matters out.

Engineer George stated that in paving Kossuth street he had got rid of
a dangerous gutter at the corner of Walnut street. He was given permission to put in a new stone gutter on the other side of the street.

REPEALED.

ORDINANCE.

Parties Can Now Bring Stuff to the City And Sell it Out if They Want To.

Council last evening received a communication from Mayor Davidson
stating that he had received numerous
protests against the ordinance prohibiting people from coming into the city and doing business.

He said his protests came from merchants and citizens, who considered it
an unjust discrimination, and as it restricted trade was considered unconstitutional.

Council at once repealed the section,
and now people can bring stuff to the city by the car load if they want to.

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time
for a girl. With her whole being undergoing a change, the seeds of female troubles are sown.
Little menstrual disorders, if neglected at the
time, will follow the woman all her life and grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are robbing homes and filling grave-yards, proves this. Yet, irregular and painful menstruation are often permitted to go on, sap-
ping the life and energy, while Wine of Cardui,
the positive relief for these ills, is on the shelf
of every drug store. Wine of Cardui helps the maiden sustain the shock of puberty by inducing a painless and natural menstrual flow.
When once this important function is started
right, a healthy life will usually follow. Wine
of Cardui is an emmenagogue of great power,
and works wonders in strengthening the delicate and sensitive female organs. Many young women owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. No woman should give up hope until she has given Wine of Cardui a trial. If thousands have secured relief through it, why not you?

needed and to-day I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me.

Marshall asked if the Rock Springs
Railway company had ever presented

Charles Swan is blockading a side-

some stone. The street commissioner
will order him to remove the stone,
and if he don't do it the city will do
the work and charge it to him.

C. Metsch was given permission to erect scales in Hague alley, between
Third and Fourth streets.

Commissioner Bryan reported that
the owner of the Fourth street sidewalk that was lower than the rest
refused to raise it, and Peach, Cripps
and Marshall make up a special committee that will try to straighten matters out.

Engineer George stated that in paying Kossuth street he had got rid of
a dangerous gutter at the corner of Walnut street. He was given permission to put in a new stone gutter on

REPEALED.

Want To.

Council last evening received a communication from Mayor Davidson
stating that he had received numerous
protests against the ordinance prohibiting people from coming into the city and doing business.

He said his protests came from merchants and citizens, who considered it
an unjust discrimination, and as it restricted trade was considered unconstitutional.

Council at once repealed the section,

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time
for a girl. With her whole being undergoing a change, the seeds of female troubles are sown.
Little menstrual disorders, if neglected at the
time, will follow the woman all her life and
grow into fatal complications. That female
troubles are robbing homes and filling grave-
yards, proves this. Yet, irregular and painful
menstruation are often permitted to go on, sap-
ping the life and energy, while Wine of Cardui,
the positive relief for these ills, is on the shelf
of every drug store. Wine of Cardui helps the maiden sustain the shock of puberty by induc-
ing a painless and natural menstrual flow.
When once this important function is started
right, a healthy life will usually follow. Wine
of Cardui is an emmenagogue of great power,
and works wonders in strengthening the delicate and sensitive female organs. Many young women owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. No
woman should give up hope until she has given Wine of Cardui a trial. If thousands have secured relief through it, why not you?

OUR "DEAR BOY" LETTER. NO. 9

Some Advice About His Ballot.

His Daddy Tells Him That No
American Voter Should Stay
Away From the Polls.

AND HIS FATHER WAS RIGHT

Every Republican in old Columbiana county should read this letter and take the good advice given:

My Dear Boy—You say that you are tired of working for old man Skinner, and are thinking of going west this fall, where wages are higher. You ask what I think about it.

Well, I have no objection to your going west, but I don't want you to go until after the election. This is the first time in your life that you ever had an opportunity to exercise your right as an American citizen in voting for a president of the United States. I don't want you to lose your vote for the following reasons:

1. The only possible chance of the election of Bryan comes from the over-confidence of Republicans. It makes me sad to hear a man say: "Oh, McKinley is going to be elected, anyhow. There is no danger. I have arrangements made to be in California in November, but you won't need my vote."

Especially do I regret to hear talk of this kind among some of the railroad men. If any class of men ought to come up unanimously to the support of McKinley and the Republican party, that class is composed of the railroad men of this country. Four years ago there were thousands of cars sidetracked, no building and but little repairing going on, and general stagnation in the railroad business. Now new roads, new roadbeds, new cars, the cars crowded with trains, full time and better pay bless the railroad men of this country. And it vexes me to hear a railroad man say: "I would have to lay off a day to vote, and I guess I'll not do that. There will be plenty to elect McKinley without me." Well, if by any possibility McKinley should be defeated, just such men as that will have themselves to blame.

My son, you are one of the sovereigns of the United States, and you have no more right to neglect the duties pertaining to your high calling than the emperor of Germany has to neglect the government of that mighty empire. To vote is a matter of inestimable privilege, and also a matter of earnest, conscientious duty.

Two years ago you enlisted to fight for your country as a soldier, but the surgeon turned you down and would not let you go. I sympathized with you in the bitterness of your disappointment. I knew that love of country led you to enlist, and I was proud because you wanted to go. And I think that the surgeon was a little over-particular. You would have made a good soldier. But I want you to realize that to serve your country as fully as you can is to cast an honest ballot as if you were a soldier in the fight. Perhaps you can do more good with the ballot than you could with the gun. You may not seem to need your soldier, but your country does need you in the realm of citizenship.

3. No matter how long you may live, you will never have an opportunity to vote for better men than this year. We have a magnificent ticket. McKinley and Roosevelt! What a superb combination. They are both statesmen and both heroes, one of the great civil war and one of the war for the deliverance of Cuba. McKinley, steady, earnest, thoughtful, calm, kind and faithful; Roosevelt, impetuous, but efficient, brave and dashing, with both moral and physical courage. Was there ever a better ticket or one which more thoroughly commands the respect, the confidence and the affection of the American people?

If you don't stay and vote you will be sorry for it 20 years from now. Make some sacrifice for your country's sake. Oh, my boy, you must not go until the election is over. And when in November the ballots fall "As Snowflakes fall upon the sod, And execute the freedman's will, As lightning does the will of God," Cast your vote and then sleep sweetly that night, with a sense of duty faithfully done.

YOUR FATHER.

REV. CARSON.

He Will Preach His Farewell Sermon in the A. M. E. Church Sunday Night.

Rev. Carson returned from the annual conference at Oxford, Ohio, last evening. Bishop B. Arnett was in charge. Conference was in session five days, closing last Sunday night. About 75 churches were represented. East Liverpool made the best showing in the conference, according to membership. Rev. Carson will go to Urbana, Ohio. We are very glad to note that this is a good appointment, one of the best in the North Ohio conference. Rev. John Mason, late of Finley, Ohio, will assume charge of the East Liverpool circuit. He is said to be a good and strong man. He was here some 12 years ago, and assisted in digging for the foundation of the present church structure.

Rev. Carson will preach his farewell sermon at this point next Sunday night. The reverend gentleman, accompanied by his helpmate and four boys, will leave for their new station next Wednesday. They will take with them the good wishes of a host of citizens of East Liverpool. Rev. Carson and his noble wife have, under the blessing of the Master, been a power for good in this community. They will have their reward in due time. God speed them, is the wish of the News Review.

MINOR MATTERS

LOOKED AFTER AT COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

Some Things That Were Disposed of Without Long Drawn Out Discussions.

Arnold and Cripps were the only members of council absent last night, and the meeting was called to order at 7:40 o'clock and adjourned at 9:15.

President Marshall reported that the ordinance committee were not ready to make a report on the vehicle ordinance, as there were many things they had to look into before presenting it to council.

An ordinance to pave Rural lane, from Jackson street to lot 504, was passed and the clerk will advertise for bids.

The question of Prospect street was brought up again and it was the sense of council that the board of education should put the street in passable condition.

Marshall asked if the Rock Springs Railway company had ever presented their check for the $880 due the city. As they haven't the clerk was instructed to go after Attorney McDonald and get the amount.

Charles Swan is blockading a sidewalk on Pennsylvania avenue with some stone. The street commissioner will order him to remove the stone, and if he don't do it the city will do the work and charge it to him.

C. Metsch was given permission to erect scales in Hague alley, between Third and Fourth streets.

A FEW OF THE DEMOCRACY

Populists and Silver Men Who Have Deserted Bryan For McKinley

ARE LOVERS OF PROSPERITY

They Are Believers In Expansion, Industry, Loyalty and Sound
Money.

NEW CONVERTS EVERY DAY

W. M. Stewart, Nevada, United States senator. McKinley promises the better administration. Bryan preached treason in encouraging the Filipinos to resist.

Lee Mantle, Butte, Montana, ex-United States senator. Bryan would degrade the American flag.

George Hoadley, New York, N. Y., ex-governor of Ohio. McKinley is a better man than Bryan ever can be.

James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency under President Cleveland. Afraid of free silver and against Bryanism.

W. D. Bynum, ex-congressman and Democrat, Indiana. Favors sound money and scouts the idea of "imperialism."

Colonel Oliver C. Sabin, formerly secretary of the Silver Knights of America. The present money standard has proved the best. Free trade means pauperism. Is an expansionist.

W. A. Pepper, Kansas, ex-United States senator. Bryan's action in connection with the Philippines is treason.

Hon. Charles Denby, of Evansville, Ind., President Cleveland's minister to China. Mr. Bryan first urged the purchase of the Philippines from Spain, and then, as soon as the lands were purchased he set up the cry of imperialism, and harps upon it night and day, which he knows to be false.

W. E. English, Indianapolis, ex-congressman, and son of the Democratic nominee for vice president in 1880. For expansion and sound money and for supporting an honest administration.

Joseph H. Outhwaite, of Columbus, O., ex-congressman and a leader of his party. Want sound money. Nothing in imperialism.

Hon. J. Sterling Morton, Nebraska, ex-President Cleveland's secretary of agriculture. Against Bryanism.

Hon. James E. Boyd, the only Democratic governor Nebraska ever had. Imperialism is impossible and free silver a mistake.

Dennis A. Hayes, president Green Glass International association: "I do not allow politics to mix with my business affairs, but I cannot help thinking how politics and business go together. I hope for Mr. McKinley's election from the workman's standpoint. When the Wilson law became effective our trade was reduced 15 per cent in wages. After McKinley was elected wages were restored. I am an expansionist."

General Paul Van der Voort, Nebraska, formerly national commander of the G. A. R. Sound money.

General E. M. Rosser, Virginia, ex-confederate. Sound money.

Ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, formerly congressman. Wants stable money system.

Melville E. Ingalls, president "Big

Four" railroad. Wants a continuance of prosperity and sound money.

Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, ex-secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland. For sound money.

General Daniel E. Sickles, soldier, ex-congressman, New York. "The flag now floats, and will never cease to float, over the islands in the Atlantic and Pacific. No man will ever see it come down."

Judge W. B. Hornblower, the eminent attorney, New York. Nominated for supreme court bench of the United States by President Cleveland. Afraid of Bryanism in all its branches.

James M. Peck, United States district attorney of Pennsylvania—A man is of that party with which he sympathizes, whatever he may call himself. If, therefore, one believes in free silver and in hauling down the American flag in the Philippines, he is a Democrat; but if he believes in honest money and in the supremacy of the flag in our territorial possessions, he is a Republican. Between these I had no hesitation in choosing. I am no longer a Democrat; I am a Republican.

Wm. T. Baker, leading business man, ex-president of board of trade, Chicago. Prosperity, sound money, and believes in supporting the administration.

General E. S. Bragg, Wisconsin. No use for Bryanism.

General John Gill, of Baltimore, Md., president of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company, and a well-known Democrat in that section: "How can sound money Democrats and reputable citizens join in supporting this candidate (Bryan)?"

Alonzo B. Colt, business man and late colonel Fourth Ohio, which participated in the Porto Rico campaign. "The flag will never be hauled down at dictation from foreign or domestic foes, nor will its protection be removed, if needed, by a man or woman, white, black, or yellow, over whom it floats."

Ex-Mayor E. B. Pond, of San Francisco, Democratic candidate for governor of California, 1890. Sound money and expansion.

Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. St. Paul railroad. "If Bryan were elected there would be woeful times in this country."

And there are thousands more to follow, all over this great and glorious nation; men who love Old Glory and the gallant boys who march and fight under her folds; men who love prosperity and have at heart the real welfare of the masses; men who believe in honest money and an honest government. And still they will come.

$10 Reward.

The above reward will be paid for the detection, arrest and conviction of any one engaged in stealing the News Review from its subscribers. Parties have been known to take this paper from points where left for patrons. There has been much complaint along this line. Last night the News Review was placed under the door of the residence of a regular reader, and a young lad was seen steal and carry it off. Due notice is hereby given that all persons detected in so offending will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

BRYAN'S TRUST REMEDY.

Would Have the Federal Government License Them—Put Their Products on the Free List.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 10.—Wm. J. Bryan witnessed a great demonstration on his visit here. Giving his remedy for trusts he said:

"First, put every trust-made article on the free list, so that it will not be able to plunder people at home while they sell abroad in competition with the world. We propose this legislation; that every corporation engaged in interstate commerce shall be compelled to take out a license from the federal government; that license to be given upon conditions which will make a monopoly impossible. Then squeeze the water out of the stock of the corporation; you will have a flood for a while, but there will be honest corporations afterward."

"Second, require that the corporation shall show that it is not attempting and has not attempted in the past to monopolize any branch of business or the production of any article of merchandise, and then provide for a revocation of the license if the conditions are not complied with."

Speeches were also made at some other places.

REQUEST OF MR. BRYAN.

Asks Committees to Have Speakers at the Depots.

Macomb, Ill., Oct. 10.—W. J. Bryan asked the Associated Press to make public the following:

"The trip would be much easier and much more satisfactory if the local committees would observe the request that has been repeatedly made, namely, that the place of meeting should be at the depot, where I can speak from the rear of the car or from a platform erected within a few feet of the train. Sometimes a committee insists on a parade from the depot to the middle of the town, even when the stop is short. Such a parade not only consumes the time that might otherwise be used in speaking, but it adds to the fatigue of the journey and then subjects me to the danger of taking cold. At short stops it is necessary to speak rapidly, and if I then have to ride a quarter or a half a mile in the carriage I am chilled before I can reach the car. I am doing all the work that I think it safe to do, and I hope that local committees will recognize this and hereafter arrange for speaking at the depot."

Tact is being more and more recognized as a valuable instrument in man's welfare and happiness.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A FEW OF THE DEMOCRACY

Populists and Silver Men Who Have Deserted Bryan For
McKinley

ARE LOVERS OF PROSPERITY

They Are Believers In Expansion,
Money.

NEW CONVERTS EVERY DAY

W. M. Stewart, Nevada, United States senator. McKinley promises the better administration. Bryan preached treason in encouraging the Filipinos to resist.

Lee Mantle, Butte, Montana, ex-United States senator. Bryan would degrade the American flag.

George Hoadley, New York, N. Y., ex-governor of Ohio. McKinley is a better man than Bryan ever can be.

James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency under President Cleveland. Afraid of free silver and against Bryanism.

W. D. Bynum, ex-congressman and Democrat, Indiana. Favors sound money and scouts the idea of "imperialism."

Colonel Oliver C. Sabin, formerly secretary of the Silver Knights of America. The present money standard has proved the best. Free trade means pauperism. Is an expansionist.

W. A. Pepper, Kansas, ex-United States senator. Bryan's action in connection with the Philippines is treason.

Hon. Charles Denby, of Evansville, Ind., President Cleveland's minister to China. Mr. Bryan first urged the purchase of the Philippines from Spain, and then, as soon as the lands were purchased he set up the cry of imperialism, and harps upon it night and day, which he knows to be false.

W. E. English, Indianapolis, ex-congressman, and son of the Democratic nominee for vice president in 1880. For expansion and sound money and for supporting an honest administration.

Joseph H. Outhwaite, of Columbus, O., ex-congressman and a leader of his party. Want sound money. Nothing in imperialism.

Hon. J. Sterling Morton, Nebraska, ex-President Cleveland's secretary of agriculture. Against Bryanism.

Hon. James E. Boyd, the only Democratic governor Nebraska ever had. Imperialism is impossible and free silver a mistake.

Dennis A. Hayes, president Green Glass International association: "I do not allow politics to mix with my business affairs, but I cannot help thinking how politics and business go together. I hope for Mr. McKinley's election from the workingman's standpoint. When the Wilson law became effective our trade was reduced 15 per cent in wages. After McKinley was elected wages were restored. I am an expansionist."

General Paul Van der Voort, Nebraska, formerly national commander of the G. A. R. Sound money.

General E. M. Rosser, Virginia, ex-confederate. Sound money.

Ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, formerly congressman. Wants stable money system.

Melville E. Ingalls, president "Big

Four" railroad. Wants a continuance of prosperity and sound money.

Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, ex-secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland. For sound money.

General Daniel E. Sickles, soldier, ex-congressman, New York. "The flag now floats, and will never cease to float, over the islands in the Atlantic and Pacific. No man will ever see it come down."

Judge W. B. Hornblower, the eminent attorney, New York. Nominated for supreme court bench of the United States by President Cleveland. Afraid of Bryanism in all its branches.

James M. Peck, United States district attorney of Pennsylvania—A man is of that party with which he sympathizes, whatever he may call himself. If, therefore, one believes in free silver and in hauling down the American flag in the Philippines, he is a Democrat; but if he believes in honest money and in the supremacy of the flag in our territorial possessions, he is a Republican. Between these I had no hesitation in choosing. I am no longer a Democrat; I am a Republican.

Wm. T. Baker, leading business man, ex-president of board of trade, Chicago. Prosperity, sound money, and believes in supporting the administration.

General E. S. Bragg, Wisconsin. No use for Bryanism.

General John Gill, of Baltimore, Md., president of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company, and a well-known Democrat in that section: "How can sound money Democrats and reputable citizens join in supporting this candidate (Bryan)?"

Alonzo B. Colt, business man and late colonel Fourth Ohio, which participated in the Porto Rico campaign. "The flag will never be hauled down at dictation from foreign or domestic foes, nor will its protection be removed, if needed, by a man or woman, white, black, or yellow, over whom it floats."

Ex-Mayor E. B. Pond, of San Francisco, Democratic candidate for governor of California, 1890. Sound money and expansion.

Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. "If Bryan were elected there would be woeful times in this country."

And there are thousands more to follow, all over this great and glorious nation; men who love Old Glory and the gallant boys who march and fight under her folds; men who love prosperity and have at heart the real welfare of the masses; men who believe in honest money and an honest government. And still they will come.

Honolulu people sent $3,300 to Galveston sufferers.

White Star liner Oceanic nearly wrecked off coast of Ireland.

At Toronto, Ont., Assistant Supreme Ranger Harper, of the Independent Order of Foresters, in which Miss Defenbach, of Chicago, was insured, said that the order's agents in Chicago were not certain that Miss Defenbach had actually died. It might yet turn out, he said, that the body cremated was not hers.

In the United States supreme court Assistant Attorney General Maurey, for the government, moved to advance the Neely extradition case and announced that he had received a telegram from the opposing counsel in New York, stating there would be no objection to this course. The date has not been set.

BRYAN'S TRUST REMEDY.

Would Have the Federal Government License Them—Put Their Products on the Free List.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 10.—Wm. J. Bryan witnessed a great demonstration on his visit here. Giving his remedy for trusts he said:

"First, put every trust-made article on the free list, so that it will not be able to plunder people at home while they sell abroad in competition with the world. We propose this legislation; that every corporation engaged in interstate commerce shall be compelled to take out a license from the federal government; that license to be given upon conditions which will make a monopoly impossible. Then squeeze the water out of the stock of the corporation; you will have a flood for a while, but there will be honest corporations afterward."

"Second, require that the corporation shall show that it is not attempting and has not attempted in the past to monopolize any branch of business or the production of any article of merchandise, and then provide for a revocation of the license if the conditions are not complied with."

Speeches were also made at some other places.

REQUEST OF MR. BRYAN.

Asks Committees to Have Speakers at the Depots.

Macomb, Ill., Oct. 10.—W. J. Bryan asked the Associated Press to make public the following:

"The trip would be much easier and much more satisfactory if the local committees would observe the request that has been repeatedly made, namely, that the place of meeting should be at the depot, where I can speak from the rear of the car or from a platform erected within a few feet of the train. Sometimes a committee insists on a parade from the depot to the middle of the town, even when the stop is short. Such a parade not only consumes the time that might otherwise be used in speaking, but it adds to the fatigue of the journey and then subjects me to the danger of taking cold. At short stops it is necessary to speak rapidly, and if I then have to ride a quarter or a half a mile in the carriage I am chilled before I can reach the car. I am doing all the work that I think it safe to do, and I hope that local committees will recognize this and hereafter arrange for speaking at the depot."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1900.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

SACRAMENTAL.

It was a solemn scene at the First M. E. church last night when the workers in the vineyard of the Master, gathered from many parts of our land, partook of the emblems representative of the broken body and shed blood of the meek and lowly Nazarene, the Savior of the world.

MISSIONS.

We have a notable gathering in our city at the present time in the convention being held in the First M. E. church. Our visitors form a band of noble women, dedicated to the service of the Master in connection with mission work. They are believers in the combination known as "Faith and Works." They believe in the power of prayer and in the power of a consecrated pocket book. Mrs. Eddy, of Berea, hit the key note of giving in her response to the address of welcome last night, when she said: "Give until it hurts; and then continue to give until it quits hurting." In other words, make a sacrifice in favor of the Master's work; and, if the giving is in the right spirit, prompted by the right motive, you will receive such a blessing at His hands as will bury the sacrifice out of sight. Church members of all denominations have an earnest, hearty, cordial invitation to these meetings.

BY THOUSANDS.

All over the country the voters are flocking to the standard of McKinley and Roosevelt. Thousands of men who voted for Bryan in 1896 will vote for McKinley in the month of November, 1900. Why? What good reason will they have for the change in their ballot? Simply that McKinley has kept every promise he made in 1896, and that the statements he then made respecting the industries of the nation, and the general prosperity thereof have come true; while each and every one of the prophecies of disaster made by William Jennings Bryan have been made conspicuous by their falsity and absurdity. The government of the United States is now builded on a magnificent financial basis; prosperity rules from one end of the country to the other; foreign nations, strong and powerful, respect us as never before in our history; we are loaning money to the great powers of the world. Under the splendid leadership of William McKinley, the nation has stepped out from the position of a pauper and away from an empty treasury, and now makes magnificent gains from an exchequer filled with gold or its equivalent, while our credit is second to no other country on the face of the earth, and our national honor stands unimpaired and unimpairable. The Republican party has builded a splendid structure, a

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Werespectfully call the attention of our agents, and the music-loving public in general, to the fact that certain parties are manufacturing and have placed upon the market a cheap piano, bearing a name so similar to our own (with a slight difference in spelling) that the purchaser may be led to believe that he is purchasing a genuine "Sohmer Piano."

We deem it our duty to those who have been favorably impressed with the fine quality and high reputation of the "Sohmer Piano" to warn them against the possibility of an imposition by unscrupulous dealers or agents. Every genuine "Sohmer Piano" has the above Trade Mark stamped upon the sounding board.

magnificent government, under the blessing of the Master; and if the party will but do its full duty, and rise to the majesty of the great responsibility entrusted to its care, it will remain in power for lo these many years. Democracy has been tried and found wanting, and the verdict of the masses is that William Jennings Bryan is not, by any manner of means, a safe leader for the nation. Mr. Bryan is the advocate of dead issues and fossilized ideas. William McKinley is the leader of the living present and the advocate of prosperity and progress.

STRUCK THE CONSTABLE.

Alvin Huff Will Now Answer to Two Charges Instead of One.

When Constable Miller went to arrest Alvin Huff last night on a charge of assault, preferred by H. M. Lambright, who resides in St. Clair township, near Calcutta, Huff hit him in the back, kicked his feet from under him and ran.

Miller notified Officer Dawson, who arrested Huff and took him to the court of Squire Rose, where he pleaded not guilty and was bound over in the sum of $100. Not being able to furnish the bond he was locked up.

The assault was committed in the alley in the rear of the Whittenberger block.

This morning a second warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Huff on a charge of resisting and assaulting an officer, the penalty of which is $5 fine or 30 days or both.

JUSTIFIED.

People Who Saw Bettridge Make That Arrest Say He Took the Right Course.

Parties who witnessed the arrest of Anthony Monahan last Sunday say that Fireman Bettridge was perfectly justified in making the arrest, as Monahan was given three chances to go home and was very offensive in the language he used to the officer.

SOME BILLS ADDED TO THE PAY ROLL

Council Gave the Contractors Several Thousand Dollars on Account of Improvements.

PEACH'S REMARKS PERSONAL

Nice Rose to a Point of Order but President Marshall Said Nothing.

SEVERAL CONTRACTS PAID OFF

The pay ordinance passed council last night, and was a large one, and as usual it took some time to get it completed.

An estimate of the work done on Fourth street by Ryan & Rinehart amounted to $11,230 77. They had been paid on account $10,500 and this left a balance due them of $730 77. The engineer had not measured the street, and Nice moved the amount be retained until council received the exact figures. H. S. Rinehart said the work had been finished since August 20 and they needed the money.

Peach said the bill should be paid and said Nice was the first to want to let a contract and now he wanted to raise an objection to paying the bill when the work had been done for two months.

Nice rose to a point of order and tried to interrupt the speaker by stating that he had no right to be personal. President Marshall rapped for order, and Peach said he had a right to speak his mind and he was talking right to the point. He then amended the motion and the contractors were given $500 on account.

Thomas McLaughlin was given $2,000 on account on Pennsylvania avenue.

Ryan & Rinehart were given $5,000 on account on Calcutta road after the engineer stated they had that much coming to them, and the contractor said they had $6,000 worth of paving done.

Ryan & Rinehart were given $906.90 for paving Rural lane.

BEINDHEIM'S.

Sears & Hinton's bill for building the culvert over Carpenter's run came to $996 35. They had received $500 on account and the balance, $496 35, was placed on the pay roll.

James S. Rinehart was given $140.33, the balance due on Robinson street.

The bills of H. C. Walter, $82; Standard livery, livery hire, $24 50, and hauling pipe, $31 28, that were laid over by the claims committee, were ordered paid.

The pay roll was then passed under a suspension of the rules.

DR. E. F. LARKINS

Can Now be Found on Second Floor of First National Bank Building.

The many friends and patrons of Dr. E. F. Larkins will be glad to learn that he has again resumed the practice of his profession in East Liverpool. The doctor has discovered that East Liverpool has been booming during his absence, as he found it quite difficult to secure suitable office quarters. He is now snugly fixed, however, and will be pleased to meet his old-time friends and acquaintances. Take the elevator and avoid unnecessary fatigue.

Dr. Larkins needs no commendation at our hands. He has been in our city for many years and has effected cures in many cases which were pronounced almost miraculous. He diagnoses a case promptly, and gives his decision as to whether or not it can be cured; and when he announces that he can effect a cure, you can rely upon his statement to the very letter, and there are many old-time patrons of his now in East Liverpool who will vouch for the truth of this assertion.

Did Not Come Anything Near Being Distanced at the Minerva Races.

Robert L., the fast pacing horse owned by Will Larkins, of this city, was not distanced in the 2:25 pace at Minerva, and was far from it, being right up among the leaders in the third, the fastest heat of the race. He was withdrawn from the race on account of sickness after the third heat, in which he got fourth place.

The horse was far from well when the race started; but was always up in the brush at the finish. He got seventh in the first and fifth in the second heat.

RECONSIDERED.

Council Decided to Go Ahead With the Trentvale Street Improvement This Year.

Council last night reconsidered their action in regard to Trentvale street after a petition had been presented from the residents of the street, asking that the improvement be made this year.

The contract for paving the street from Sheridan avenue to the stone bridge was awarded to Ryan & Rinehart.

People Who Saw Bettridge Make That Arrest Say He Took the Right Course.

Parties who witnessed the arrest of Anthony Monahan last Sunday say that Fireman Bettridge was perfectly justified in making the arrest, as Monahan was given three chances to go home and was very offensive in the language he used to the officer.

PEACH'S REMARKS PERSONAL

SEVERAL CONTRACTS PAID OFF

An estimate of the work done on Fourth street by Ryan & Rinehart amounted to $11,230 77. They had been paid on account $10,500 and this left a balance due them of $730 77. The engineer had not measured the street, and Nice moved the amount be retained until council received the exact figures. H. S. Rinehart said the work had been finished since August 20 and they needed the money.

Peach said the bill should be paid and said Nice was the first to want to let a contract and now he wanted to raise an objection to paying the bill when the work had been done for two months.

Nice rose to a point of order and tried to interrupt the speaker by stating that he had no right to be personal. President Marshall rapped for order, and Peach said he had a right to speak his mind and he was talking right to the point. He then amended the motion and the contractors were given $500 on account.

Thomas McLaughlin was given $2,000 on account on Pennsylvania avenue.

Ryan & Rinehart were given $5,000 on account on Calcutta road after the engineer stated they had that much coming to them, and the contractor said they had $6,000 worth of paving done.

Ryan & Rinehart were given $906.90 for paving Rural lane.

BEINDHEIM'S.

Sears & Hinton's bill for building the culvert over Carpenter's run came to $996 35. They had received $500 on account and the balance, $496 35, was placed on the pay roll.

James S. Rinehart was given $140.33, the balance due on Robinson street.

The bills of H. C. Walter, $82; Standard livery, livery hire, $24 50, and hauling pipe, $31 28, that were laid over by the claims committee, were ordered paid.

The pay roll was then passed under a suspension of the rules.

DR. E. F. LARKINS

Can Now be Found on Second Floor of First National Bank Building.

The many friends and patrons of Dr. E. F. Larkins will be glad to learn that he has again resumed the practice of his profession in East Liverpool. The doctor has discovered that East Liverpool has been booming during his absence, as he found it quite difficult to secure suitable office quarters. He is now snugly fixed, however, and will be pleased to meet his old-time friends and acquaintances. Take the elevator and avoid unnecessary fatigue.

Dr. Larkins needs no commendation at our hands. He has been in our city for many years and has effected cures in many cases which were pronounced almost miraculous. He diagnoses a case promptly, and gives his decision as to whether or not it can be cured; and when he announces that he can effect a cure, you can rely upon his statement to the very letter, and there are many old-time patrons of his now in East Liverpool who will vouch for the truth of this assertion.

He was withdrawn from the race on account of sickness after the third heat, in which he got fourth place.

The horse was far from well when the race started; but was always up in the brush at the finish. He got seventh in the first and fifth in the second heat.

RECEPTION TO THE NEW PASTOR

Large Number of People Attended
the First Presbyterian Church
and Gave Rev. Jordan

Frank H. Croxall, Superintendent
Rayman and Rev. Jordan Delivered Pleasing Addresses.

AFFAIR WAS ENJOYED BY ALL

The reception tendered at the First Presbyterian church last evening to the new pastor, Rev. Charles G. Jordan, was attended by fully 600 people,
and was a very flattering success.

Frank H. Croxall, on behalf of the congregation, made a very neat
speech, welcoming the pastor to our midst and assuring him of the hearty cooperation of the congregation in his labors in the city.

Superintendent Rayman made the address of welcome on behalf of the Sunday school, and in a few well chosen words extended to the new pastor the assistance and welcome of the Sunday school.

Rev. Jordan responded to both addresses in a pleasing way. Told of his call to this city and of his acceptance.
He spoke of the work here and stated
that great good might be done in the city.

Solos were sung by Miss Margaret Baxter and Miss Harrison, and were enjoyed by all, as was a piano solo by Miss Bessie Adams.

The affair then resolved itself into
a social and everyone shook hands.

Refreshments, consisting of ice
cream and cake, were served.

EXPLANATORY.

Mrs. William Wedgwood Makes a Statement Respecting the Sat-

Mrs. William Wedgwood called at the News Review office today and stated
that her husband did not threaten
to kill his children during his rampage on Saturday night last, and that he did not have a bread knife in his possession. We make this statement
by request of Mrs. Wedgwood. But we have the story of Saturday night's
difficulty from absolutely reliable parties
who were on the spot at the time, and these parties say that the officer treated his man better than
he should have done, that he was very merciful and lenient, and that
the actions and language of Wedg-
wood were outrageous in the extreme.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Mr. Bursner Declares That There is Nothing Wrong at the Garbage Furnace—Dr. Ogden Speaks.

Mr. Bursner was seen today respecting the complaint, and tried to see Mr.
Peach, but was unable to do so. Dr.

designated a dozen times, and found
nothing wrong, he did not deem it worth while to repeat the trip. Mr.
Bursner is anxious that Mr. Peach
and the members of council shall visit

them to be fair men, and that they
will give a fair verdict.

HAS A VARIED CLIMATE.

Curious Meteorological Conditions
of the Island of Saghalien.

Saghalien, off the eastern coast of Siberia, presents a very curious anomaly of climate. The island is bathed
by two cold ocean currents, and in winter nothing protects it against the icy northwest winds coming from Siberia. At the sea level the snow falls
continually and stays on the ground
till the end of May; and the seashore is very cold. Farther inland, however,
especially as we go higher up, the
climate is modified—just the opposite
to what is observed elsewhere. It has often been observed in Siberia and in central Europe that in winter the cold
is greater in the plains and the valleys
and that the highlands have a sensibly
milder temperature; it is as if the denser cold air accumulated in the low lands.

The cold air accumulates in the low
regions of the island, and on the coast
the higher regions have a more elevated temperature. So it happens that the lower parts have an arctic vegetation,
while the intermediate altitudes have
the vegetation of a temperate zone,
sometimes subtropical. The birch, the pine, the fir, abound in the low regions
and form often impenetrable forests,
but toward the center of the island appear bamboos, hydrangeas, azalias and
other plants that one is greatly surprised to meet, and whose presence
can be explained only by the altogether
abnormal climatic conditions of the island.—Newcastle (Eng.) Chronicle.

ELIJAH W. HILL, Real Estate Dealer,

Second Floor Grand Building, ^{Corner Sixth}
and Washington, EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

DO YOU WISH TO BUY OR SELL REAL ESTATE? If so, consult us.

We have the facilities for accommodating you. Having made real estate dealing a specialty for some time, we have become established in the business. Every day brings us new business and nearly every day sees a deal consummated. Our volume of business grows out of the reasonableness of our charges. We never speculate on other peoples' property. The price set by the owner is the price the purchaser pays. We do not conduct our business on the "get rich quick" plan. Our patrons appreciate this and show it by sending us other patrons. Owners of property who desire to sell the same will do well to place it on our sale list. Those intending to purchase property will do well to consult us before buying.

In all of our business we take care of the interests of both owner and purchaser. We are neither for the one or the other. Justice between both parties is what we seek.

Owners who want a quick sale and will offer a genuine bargain can be accommodated at all times by us. Purchasers, who want a bargain, can take advantage of these offers if they will let us know that they are in the market for such.

Those who have but little money, say from $50 to $100, can buy a home
from us at any time, the balance being paid on installments at the rate of $1 monthly to the $100 of indebtedness, which pays both interest and principal, with privilege of paying faster. The large assortment of properties
we have constantly on sale enables us to usually suit you.

DO YOU WISH FIRE INSURANCE? This is another branch of our business. We represent ten different companies, all of high standard. We insure dwellings, barns, mercantile buildings, factories, merchandise, household goods, etc. We write at regular rates. We think it unfair to give what is known as "cut rates." As a basis for dwelling rates, we would say that a frame, slate roof building which stands unexposed by other buildings for the space of 25 feet on all sides, will cost you 35 cents per $100 insurance for one year; 70 cents per $100 for three years; or, $1 per $100 for five years. This applies to household goods as well. Household goods are just as valuable, proportionately to you as the house is to its owner, and we often wonder why so many owners of household goods let themselves be exposed to loss, and often lose them when insurance rates are so reasonable.

BONDS, STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS we also handle. We can sell
you local stocks, bonds and investments, and also corporation, bank and railroad stocks and bonds. Not much business in this line has developed here yet, but by your co-operation with us, either as a buyer or seller, will be all that is necessary to develop such.

HOUSE RENTING as a business is what East Liverpool has needed for some time. In our renting department, you find such and every day is adding to its utility. If you have any properties to rent place them with us and see if it does not profit you.

All kinds of notarial work executed, such as acknowledgements, writing of wills, deeds, mortgages, contracts and agreements. We also procure marriage licenses.

Loaning of money on real estate is another feature of our business. We negotiate loans for a reasonable charge, the rate of interest depending on the class of security and amount wanted. Those who have money to put out should avail themselves of our facilities for doing this kind of business.
No charges to the lender.

To the public we extend free of charge our services in the way of supplying information of a general nature concerning our city and vicinity.
We try to have at all times just what you want to know.

We open this week a free bureau for the accommodation of those who are seeking houses to rent and landlords who are seeking tenants. We are constantly besieged with applications for houses for rent. To this end we invite all owners of rentable houses in the city or vicinity to let us know when they want or will want a tenant. If they will do so we will refer in-quirers to them, making no charge whatever, either to applicant or owner.
Landlords by doing this need never have a house empty for more than a day.

In the above we have endeavored to give you the general nature of the business in which we engage. We ask but a continuance of the patronage
and valuable service.

GEN. BLACK ALL RIGHT.

General John C. Black, the eminent
Illinois Democrat, surprised the Republican committee of that state the other day by a letter offering his services upon the stump to help elect Mc-Kinley and beat Bryan. The Democratic declaration that "the paramount
issue" is opposition to the authority
of the government for which he fought,
and encouragement to its enemies in
arms, made his soldier blood boil,
though neither the surrender to 16 to 1 nor the Populist alliance were able quite to move him. General Black represents many Americans who are patriots first, patriots afterwards, and
are against Bryan's "paramount" preference for Aguinaldo and his "half-breed Chinamen."

by the owner is the price the purchaser pays. We do not conduct our business on the "get rich quick" plan. Our patrons appreciate this and show it by sending us other patrons. Owners of property who desire to sell the same will do well to place it on our sale list. Those intending to purchase property will do well to consult us before buying.

In all of our business we take care of the interests of both owner and
parties is what we seek.

accommodated at all times by us. Purchasers, who want a bargain, can take advantage of these offers if they will let us know that they are in the market for such.

Those who have but little money, say from $50 to $100, can buy a home
from us at any time, the balance being paid on installments at the rate of $1 monthly to the $100 of indebtedness, which pays both interest and principal, with privilege of paying faster. The large assortment of properties
we have constantly on sale enables us to usually suit you.

DO YOU WISH FIRE INSURANCE? This is another branch of our business. We represent ten different companies, all of high standard. We insure dwellings, barns, mercantile buildings, factories, merchandise, household goods, etc. We write at regular rates. We think it unfair to give what is known as "cut rates." As a basis for dwelling rates, we would say that a frame, slate roof building which stands unexposed by other buildings for the space of 25 feet on all sides, will cost you 35 cents per $100 insurance
for one year; 70 cents per $100 for three years; or, $1 per $100 for five years. This applies to household goods as well. Household goods are just as valuable, proportionately to you as the house is to its owner, and we often wonder why so many owners of household goods let themselves be exposed to loss, and often lose them when insurance rates are so reasonable.

BONDS, STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS we also handle. We can sell
you local stocks, bonds and investments, and also corporation, bank and railroad stocks and bonds. Not much business in this line has developed here
yet, but by your co-operation with us, either as a buyer or seller, will be all that is necessary to develop such.

HOUSE RENTING as a business is what East Liverpool has needed for some time. In our renting department, you find such and every day is adding to its utility. If you have any properties to rent place them with us and see if it does not profit you.

All kinds of notarial work executed, such as acknowledgements, writing of wills, deeds, mortgages, contracts and agreements. We also procure marriage licenses.

Loaning of money on real estate is another feature of our business. We negotiate loans for a reasonable charge, the rate of interest depending on the class of security and amount wanted. Those who have money to put out should avail themselves of our facilities for doing this kind of business.
No charges to the lender.

To the public we extend free of charge our services in the way of supplying information of a general nature concerning our city and vicinity.
We try to have at all times just what you want to know.

We open this week a free bureau for the accommodation of those who are seeking houses to rent and landlords who are seeking tenants. We are constantly besieged with applications for houses for rent. To this end we invite all owners of rentable houses in the city or vicinity to let us know
when they want or will want a tenant. If they will do so we will refer in-quirers to them, making no charge whatever, either to applicant or owner.
Landlords by doing this need never have a house empty for more than a day.

In the above we have endeavored to give you the general nature of the business in which we engage. We ask but a continuance of the patronage
and valuable service.

GEN. BLACK ALL RIGHT.

General John C. Black, the eminent
Illinois Democrat, surprised the Republican committee of that state the
other day by a letter offering his serv-
Kinley and beat Bryan. The Democratic declaration that "the paramount
issue" is opposition to the authority
of the government for which he fought,
and encouragement to its enemies in
arms, made his soldier blood boil,
though neither the surrender to 16 to 1 nor the Populist alliance were able
quite to move him. General Black
patriots first, patriots afterwards, and
are against Bryan's "paramount" pre-

and Gave Rev. Jordan

Frank H. Croxall, Superintendent
Rayman and Rev. Jordan Delivered Pleasing Addresses.

AFFAIR WAS ENJOYED BY ALL

The reception tendered at the First Presbyterian church last evening to
the new pastor, Rev. Charles G. Jordan,
was attended by fully 600 people,
and was a very flattering success.

Frank H. Croxall, on behalf of the congregation, made a very neat
speech, welcoming the pastor to our
midst and assuring him of the hearty
cooperation of the congregation in his
labors in the city.

address of welcome on behalf of the
chosen words extended to the new
pastor the assistance and welcome of
the Sunday school.

Rev. Jordan responded to both addresses in a pleasing way. Told of his
call to this city and of his acceptance.
He spoke of the work here and stated
city.

Solos were sung by Miss Margaret Baxter and Miss Harrison, and were enjoyed by all, as was a piano solo by Miss Bessie Adams.

The affair then resolved itself into
a social and everyone shook hands.
Refreshments, consisting of ice

EXPLANATORY.

Mrs. William Wedgwood Makes a Statement Respecting the Saturday Night Fuss.

Mrs. William Wedgwood called at
the News Review office today and stated
that her husband did not threaten
to kill his children during his ram-
page on Saturday night last, and that
possession. We make this statement
by request of Mrs. Wedgwood. But
difficulty from absolutely reliable parties
who were on the spot at the
officer treated his man better than
very merciful and lenient, and that
the actions and language of Wedg-

THE OTHER SIDE.

Mr. Bursner Declares That There is Nothing Wrong at the Garbage Fur-
nace—Dr. Ogden Speaks.

Mr. Bursner was seen today respecting the complaint, and tried to see Mr.
Peach, but was unable to do so. Dr.
Ogden, health officer, was interviewed; but, as he and Health Officer
Burgess had been down to the point
designated a dozen times, and found
nothing wrong, he did not deem it
worth while to repeat the trip. Mr.
Bursner is anxious that Mr. Peach
and the members of council shall visit
the spot in question, as he believes
them to be fair men, and that they
will give a fair verdict.

HAS A VARIED CLIMATE.

Curious Meteorological Conditions
of the island of Saghalien.

Saghalien, off the eastern coast of Siberia, presents a very curious anomaly of climate. The island is bathed
by two cold ocean currents, and in winter nothing protects it against the
icy northwest winds coming from Siberia. At the sea level the snow falls
continually and stays on the ground
till the end of May; and the seashore is
very cold. Farther inland, however,
especially as we go higher up, the
climate is modified—just the opposite
to what is observed elsewhere. It has often been observed in Siberia and in
central Europe that in winter the cold
is greater in the plains and the valleys
and that the highlands have a sensibly
milder temperature; it is as if the denser cold air accumulated in the low
lands.

The cold air accumulates in the low
regions of the island, and on the coast
the higher regions have a more elevated temperature. So it happens that the
lower parts have an arctic vegetation,
while the intermediate altitudes have
the vegetation of a temperate zone,
sometimes subtropical. The birch, the
pine, the fir, abound in the low regions
and form often impenetrable forests,
but toward the center of the island appear bamboos, hydrangeas, azalias and
other plants that one is greatly surprised to meet, and whose presence
can be explained only by the altogether
abnormal climatic conditions of the island.—Newcastle (Eng.) Chronicle.

DO YOU WISH TO BUY OR SELL REAL ESTATE? If so, consult us.

We have the facilities for accommodating you. Having made real estate

CONGER NAMES GUILTY

Chinese, Who Should Suffer With Prince Tuan.

THE FRENCH NOTE CONSIDERED.

A More or Less Definite Conclusion Reached, but M. Thiebault Informed That Final Action Had Not Yet Been Taken—Edict to Punish Leaders.

Washington, Oct. 10. — The cabinet meeting held on the return of President and Mrs. McKinley to the city was devoted almost exclusively to a discussion of the Chinese situation. Special consideration was given to the French note, and it is understood that a more or less definite conclusion was reached as to the nature of the reply which will be made by this government, but it has not yet been put in diplomatic form.

It developed that Mr. Conger, in compliance with a suggestion from Secretary Had submitted to the state department a list of 10 or 12 names of Chinese officials who were prominent in the Boxer movement against the foreigners and in a measure were responsible for the assaults upon the legations in Peking. These officials, Mr. Conger believes, should be included with Prince Tuan and others in any punishments which are to be inflicted upon those who took a prominent part in the Peking outrages. It is not unlikely that the position of this government, in regard to the punishment of these officials, will be stated in the French note.

It is conceded that the failure of the effort to induce the Chinese court to return to Peking has done much to retard the peace negotiations, although these are still possible if the authority conferred upon Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching is sufficient.

General Chaffee continues to execute the program for the withdrawal of the military forces already outlined and he has notified the war department that he will have all of his men except the legation guard out of China inside of a fortnight.

M. Thiebault, the French charge d'affaires, called on Secretary Hay, but learned that final action had not yet been taken on the French note and that it would be some days before the response would be ready.

Peking, Oct. 6.—Prince Ching has received an edict from the emperor, dated Oct. 1, in reply to a note sent at the request of the legations, saying he will return to Peking as soon as negotiations take a favorable turn.

Peking, Oct. 7, via Tien Tsin, Oct. 8, Shanghai, Oct. 9.—A response to the German demand has been transmitted to Li Hung Chang. This says that Ying Nien, president of the censorate; Yang Yi, assistant grand secretary and president of the civil board, and Chao Shu Chiao, president of the board of punishment, will be decapitated; that Prince Chwang, Duke Tsai Lan and Prince Yih will be sentenced to life imprisonment, and that Prince Tuan will be banished to the imperial military post roads on the Siberian frontier as a further punishment for aiding the Boxers.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 10.—The bodies of the wife, three daughters, granddaughter and niece of Captain James Corrigan were lowered together into one large grave in Lake View cemetery. Rev. The last of the bodies was recovered only a few days ago. Miss Mabelle Hall, a niece of Captain Corrigan, and a beloved inmate of his home, died within the last week, and she was buried with the victims of the wreck.

'GOEBEL ISN'T DEAD!'

Hysterical Cry of Youtsey In Court.

SOME BELIEVE HE IS DEMENTED.

Declared Arthur Goebel Lied, When He Told of Talking to Him in Jail—Proclaimed Innocence—Carried to Jail, Helpless—Condition Critical.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 10.—During the trial of Henry E. Youtsey, charged with being a principal in the shooting of Governor Goebel, a sensational scene occurred. Arthur Goebel was put on the stand, and Judge Ben Williams did the questioning. Arthur Goebel said:

Just at this point Youtsey arose behind his attorneys and in a loud voice said, "It is untrue; it is a lie; I never spoke a word to that man in my life nor he to me."

Colonel Crawford told him to be quiet and sit down and others took hold of him. "I will not sit down. I never said a word to that man—it is untrue." He was shouting by this time and everyone was becoming excited. Youtsey's wife sprang to his side, and while endeavoring to make him sit down could be heard saying, "Now you have killed my husband, I suppose you are satisfied." Then Youtsey hysterically shouted again, "I am innocent—there is no blood on my hands; these men are swearing my life away." Two or three deputy sheriffs went over and grabbed him. He struggled wildly and said, "Let me alone—I will not sit down."

Arthur Goebel meanwhile sat sphinx-like in the witness chair and never turned his head. Finally after Youtsey was forced into a seat he shouted again, "Goebel is not dead—all the demons in hell could not kill him."

"Mr. Sheriff, if the defendant does not behave himself put handcuffs on him," said Judge Cantrill. Meanwhile the audience could not be forced to keep their seats until the judge threatened to fine those who stood up. Youtsey settled back in his chair, closed his eyes and seemed in a state of collapse. He waved his handkerchief above his head in an aimless sort of way, and groaned and cried hysterically. Finally quiet was restored and Judge Williams asked Arthur Goebel another question, when Colonel Crawford asked a postponement of the trial until today, on account of the defendant's condition. Judge Cantrill said he could see no cause or reason for the defendant's outbreak, but in justice to his attorneys he would postpone the case until today. Mr. Franklin said the commonwealth had not the slightest objection. Youtsey still occupied his chair with his eyes closed, apparently in a half-fainting condition. After the crowd passed out, Jailer Reed and deputies carried Youtsey to the jail, as he was unable to walk. Various reasons are assigned for his outbreak, the first being that his long confinement and strain of the trial caused him to become hysterical and lose control of himself. Another is that he is really demented, as shown by his remark that Goebel was not dead. He is being attended by physicians and relatives at the jail and his condition is deemed critical.

Fugitive Banker a Railroad President.

Lancaster, Pa., Oct. 10.—Information has been received here that David Dare, formerly of this county, who has been wanted by the authorities for some time, has been located at Alexandria, Egypt, where he is president of a railroad. Some years ago Dare started a bank at San Diego, Cal., secured a great many subscriptions of stock from people in the east, appropriated the money and disappeared. His cashier, a young man named Collins, from York county, committed suicide due to worry.

CONGER NAMES GUILTY

THE FRENCH NOTE CONSIDERED.

More or Less Definite Conclusion Reached, but M. Thiebault Informed That Final Action Had Not Yet Been Taken—Edict to Punish Leaders.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The cabinet meeting held on the return of President and Mrs. McKinley to the city was devoted almost exclusively to a discussion of the Chinese situation. Special consideration was given to the French note, and it is understood that a more or less definite conclusion was reached as to the nature of the reply which will be made by this government, but it has not yet been put in diplomatic form.

It developed that Mr. Conger, in compliance with a suggestion from Secretary Had submitted to the state department a list of 10 or 12 names of Chinese officials who were prominent in the Boxer movement against the foreigners and in a measure were responsible for the assaults upon the legations in Peking. These officials, Mr. Conger believes, should be included with Prince Tuan and others in any punishments which are to be inflicted upon those who took a prominent part in the Peking outrages. It is not unlikely that the position of this government, in regard to the punishment of these officials will be stated in the French note.

It is conceded that the failure of the effort to induce the Chinese court to return to Peking has done much to retard the peace negotiations, although these are still possible if the authority conferred upon Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching is sufficient.

General Chaffee continues to execute the program for the withdrawal of the military forces already outlined and he has notified the war department that he will have all of his men except the legation guard out of China inside of a fortnight.

M. Thiebault, the French charge d'affaires, called on Secretary Hay, but learned that final action had not yet been taken on the French note and that it would be some days before the response would be ready.

Peking, Oct. 6.—Prince Ching has received an edict from the emperor, dated Oct. 1, in reply to a note sent at the request of the legations, saying he will return to Peking as soon as negotiations take a favorable turn.

Peking, Oct. 7, via Tien Tsin, Oct. 8, Shanghai, Oct. 9.—A response to the German demand has been transmitted to Li Hung Chang. This says that Ying Nien, president of the censorate; Yang Yi, assistant grand secretary and president of the civil board, and Chao Shu Chiao, president of the board of punishment, will be decapitated; that Prince Chwang, Duke Tsai Lan and Prince Yih will be sentenced to life imprisonment, and that Prince Tuan will be banished to the imperial military post roads on the Siberian frontier as a further punishment for aiding the Boxers.

'GOEBEL ISN'T DEAD!'

Hysterical Cry of Youtsey In Court.

SOME BELIEVE HE IS DEMENTED.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 10.—During the trial of Henry E. Youtsey, charged with being a principal in the shooting of Governor Goebel, a sensational scene occurred. Arthur Goebel was put on the stand, and Judge Ben Williams did the questioning. Arthur Goebel said:

Just at this point Youtsey arose behind his attorneys and in a loud voice said, "It is untrue; it is a lie; I never spoke a word to that man in my life nor he to me."

Colonel Crawford told him to be quiet and sit down and others took hold of him. "I will not sit down. I never said a word to that man—it is untrue." He was shouting by this time and everyone was becoming excited. Youtsey's wife sprang to his side, and while endeavoring to make him sit down could be heard saying, "Now you have killed my husband, I suppose you are satisfied." Then Youtsey hysterically shouted again, "I am innocent—there is no blood on my hands; these men are swearing my life away." Two or three deputy sheriffs went over and grabbed him. He struggled wildly and said, "Let me alone—I will not sit down."

Arthur Goebel meanwhile sat sphinx-like in the witness chair and never turned his head. Finally after Youtsey was forced into a seat he shouted again, "Goebel is not dead—all the demons in hell could not kill him."

"Mr. Sheriff, if the defendant does not behave himself put handcuffs on him," said Judge Cantrill. Meanwhile the audience could not be forced to keep their seats until the judge threatened to fine those who stood up. Youtsey settled back in his chair, closed his eyes and seemed in a state of collapse. He waved his handkerchief above his head in an aimless sort of way, and groaned and cried hysterically. Finally quiet was restored and Judge Williams asked Arthur Goebel another question, when Colonel Crawford asked a postponement of the trial until today, on account of the defendant's condition. Judge Cantrill said he could see no cause or reason for the defendant's outbreak, but in justice to his attorneys he would postpone the case until today. Mr. Franklin said the commonwealth had not the slightest objection. Youtsey still occupied his chair with his eyes closed, apparently in a half-fainting condition. After the crowd passed out, Jailer Reed and deputies carried Youtsey to the jail, as he was unable to walk. Various reasons are assigned for his outbreak, the first being that his long confinement and strain of the trial caused him to become hysterical and lose control of himself. Another is that he is really demented, as shown by his remark that Goebel was not dead. He is being attended by physicians and relatives at the jail and his condition is deemed critical.

DRED SCOTT DECISION.

Invoked by Democrats to Sustain Anti-Expansion.

REPUBLICAN POSITION IN 1860.

Look the Same Ground Then as Now, that Congress Has Full Power to Govern All United States Territory Which Has Not Reached Statehood.

How the deadly virus of states rights, born of the determination to destroy the Union, if need be, to sustain human slavery, inhere in the Democracy! David B. Hill, of New York, in a speech at Brooklyn recently, declared that, "it is monstrous doctrine that the constitution does not extend to the territories." He added, by way of more complete explanation, that "it has only now been invoked to justify the proposed establishment of colonial governments, which are confessedly to be and to remain outside of the constitution." In this historical statement, Governor Hill is forty years out of the road; for the doctrine that he denounces was proudly incorporated by the Republican party in its national platform of 1860, upon which Abraham Lincoln stood at the time of his election to be president of the United States. The seventh plank in that platform reads:

"7. That the new dogma,—that the constitution, of its own force, carries slavery into any or all of the territories of the United States,—is a dangerous political heresy, at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, with contemporaneous exposition, and with legislative and judicial precedent; is revolutionary in its tendency and subversive of the peace and harmony of the country."

If this quotation is not plain enough to show the genesis of the present Democratic way of stating the doctrine that "the constitution follows the flag," that had its birth in support of human slavery, it is put beyond question by the eighth section of the Republican national platform of the same year, to-wit:

"8. That the normal condition of all the territory of the United States is that of freedom; that, as our republican fathers, when they had abolished slavery in all our national territory, ordained that 'no person should be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, it becomes our duty, by legislation, whenever such legislation is necessary, to maintain this provision of the constitution against all attempts to violate it; and we deny the authority of congress, of a territorial legislature, or of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States."

There is the Democratic party arraigned forty years ago for setting aside the express provisions of the constitution itself, in order to force slavery into free territory. That too, as today, was done under the very identical plea that they now put forward, that "the constitution of its own force carries slavery into any territory of the United States." Mr. Hill knows perfectly well where the Democratic party got its pretended warrant for the doctrine that it advocated forty years ago, and which it has now revived. In support of it, he quoted a United States supreme court decision, which he gave as "19 Howard, 393-477," denying that congress has plenary power to rule territory at its discretion.

Mr. Hill is too good a lawyer not to know that the quotation, whose origin he thus concealed under technical phrase, was really that most detested opinion of Chief Justice Taney, known as the Dred Scott decision, by which control over the extension of the area of slavery was denied to congress and to any and every territory; and its right to indefinite expansion was declared by a majority of the supreme court to be implied in the very terms of the constitution.

By the Dred Scott decision slavery was "ordained to be the irreversible law of the republic," and the basis of that decision survives today in the Democratic national platform adopted at Kansas City July 5, 1900, in the smoothly stated but misleading words that "the constitution follows the flag." This was born of that infamous decision, which the war shot to pieces, when it destroyed human slavery. The Democratic occasion of that day for the false doctrine has been destroyed, but the doctrine still survives, as pernicious as ever.

BRYAN'S HALF-LIE

CONCERNING SUFFRAGE IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

No Citizen There Has a Vote, Whether He Be White or Black—Some Facts That Show the Fallacy of Bryan's Contention About "Consent of the Governed."

Characteristic as one of Bryan's part truths that are more false than a full lie, is his reiteration that "the Republican party many years ago disfranchised the negro in the District of Columbia." And Bryan must surely know that for 25 years neither white nor black man has voted in the district, congress having disfranchised the citizens of the capital city for reasons it deemed fully sufficient. Thus right in the District of Columbia itself there has been for a quarter of a century, with the knowledge and consent of every party, complete proof of the power vested in congress over all territory of the United States not yet organized into states.

The three commissioners appointed by the president, without any part in their appointment by the residents of the district or its taxpayers, govern it absolutely under him, regulated only by such laws as the congress itself, elected from and for the entire country, may enact. Half of the entire expenditure of the district is paid in taxes by its property owners, and yet they can not vote. They are powerless to protect themselves, or to prevent any improper acts upon the part of their rulers. Here is indeed "taxation without representation," and that "without the consent of the governed." Washington City once had a council and an executive elected by its own people, but congress took these away years ago, and never a Democrat has yet said a word about this "bold and open violation of the nation's organic law," to quote the Porto Rico plank of the platform at Kansas City. All this, too, at the very capital of the nation, right under the immediate personal notice and knowledge of the United States supreme court, and of every Democratic senator and representative in congress. If ever anywhere "the constitution follows the flag," in the revived Democratic sense, the national capital, of all places, is the one for it. Yet here it is not, and has not been; and never one, wait for it from the woe-mongers of the Democracy.

At this very hour, in Alaska, in Porto Rico, even in the Philippines, and in the Indian Territory itself, the local residents have more rights of self-rule than in the District of Columbia, for in all these territories there is local self-government, but there is not one bit of it in the District of Columbia.

SCHURZ'S FOOL IDEA.

Of all campaign absurdities the funniest is that Carl Schurz plan of electing Bryan, and then tying him up with a Republican congress. If he is right, he ought to have a congress of his own kind, and carry out his wildest notions. If he is wrong, he ought to be kept out of all chance for making mischief as president. The people of the country appreciate this exactly. An Iowa farmer hit it off to a nicety when he said to Dolliver the other day:

"They want us to elect Bryan and then tie him up, but I think the best way to keep him from doing any mischief is to tie him up to a haystack out on his farm in Nebraska and let him stay there. That is the best place for him."

"The people understand pretty well what the effect of electing Bryan will be, and they don't take much stock in this idea that his election will do no harm."

English and European expressions of sympathy for Bryan, and hope for his election, become more common and outspoken, and whenever found are traceable to their ill feeling over the loss of their trade gained by the United States under McKinley.

BRYAN ON MONEY.

HIS FALSE PROPHECIES MADE FOUR YEARS AGO.

Bryan's prophecies that, in case of McKinley's election, the Union will be sacrificed to imperialism, and that every young man will have to enter the army. Bryan proved himself a poor prophet in 1896. At that time he said: "If McKinley and the Republican party should be victorious, and remain at the head of the government for the next four years, wages will be reduced and hard times will follow. The price of wheat will steadily decline, while that of gold will steadily rise; the capitalists will foreclose the mortgages on our homes; factories and workshops will be closed. We will not only not be able to export any good, but will even have to import such for our own necessities. Ruin, suffering and misfortune will be our lot." Everybody knows that exactly the opposite happened.

In his despair Bryan grabs at the most foolish arguments to catch votes. Now he even harps about the German loan placed in New York. He calls attention to the fact that American capitalists fight with each other to make a loan which brings only 4 per cent, and asks whether it is one of the blessings of a gold standard that money leaves our country to go abroad—just as if the American people had such great love for the German government as to permit a monetary system which takes money abroad for investment. It is hardly worth while to waste time on such silly arguments. It serves, however, as an illustration of the fact that Bryan does not rely upon the principles of a statesman, but attempts to arouse the people with such fallacies. That he is not a friend of the Germans is well known, as he never had any use for a German, for his defeat in 1896 was their work. Bryan could not refrain from giving vent to his spite against the Germans, for soon after his defeat he said in a public meeting in Des Moines, Ia.:

"The last time we were defeated by the votes of foreigners. He had a majority of the American-born voters. The foreigners did not understand the issues at stake, and we could not furnish them the necessary campaign literature."

Of course, these ignorant foreigners, who could not understand Bryan, and who would not hear of his fraudulent silver dollar, were no others than the Germans.

A BRYAN DINNER PAIL.

REQUIRES GOLD CLAUSE.

"That the New York state Democratic organization is plainly for the gold standard," is the assertion of Charles J. Patterson, a prominent Brooklyn Democrat, who also says, "that the United States guarantees that every silver dollar issued by the government shall be maintained at equal value with each gold dollar." This is his interpretation of the money bill passed by the Republican congress against the Democratic opposition, but it is not strong enough to suit him.

for two mortgages recently taken by this good Bryan Democrat contain the stiffest sort of a stipulation for payment in gold. Four other Brooklyn money lenders have recently incorporated this gold provision in their mortgages, the call for them commencing at the start of the Bryan agitation.

TRUST DILEMMA.

Democratic Party Can Not Be Looked to For a Remedy.

Neither Bryan nor any other Democrat during the campaign has proposed a practical remedy, or in fact any one, for the trust evil. Once at Chicago Bryan suggested "that congress should pass a law providing that no corporation organized in any state should do business outside of the state in which it was organized until it received from some power created by congress a license authorizing it to do business outside of its own state."

Whether this would amount to anything or not, it suffers from a fatal defect—the decision of the United States supreme court that congress controls no corporations, except those engaged in commerce between the states, and that manufacturing is not such commerce.

This makes imperative a constitutional amendment; and, while Bryan in the same speech professed to favor it, his party voted solidly against such an amendment when they got the chance. The Democratic reason for opposition, too, is one that goes to the very root of the entire matter, because they base it upon that fundamental doctrine of Democracy, the rights of the states, too sacred to be touched.

Thus the Democratic position is that they are against an amendment, while the supreme court says, practically, that nothing can be done without an amendment. In a word, nothing can be done now or ever by the Democratic plan.

HOW ABOUT A GOOD LIVING?

"Imperialism is the overshadowing issue," says Vice Presidential Candidate Stevenson in his letter to the Populists, accepting their nomination; also that all other questions are "but as dust in the balance." The matter of a man's livelihood may be a mere trifle to Mr. Stevenson, and, like Mr. Bryan, he makes light literally of the full dinner pail, but the wage-earner who has to stand the loss of his work and wages, and thus to pay the bills, may not think it "dust in the balance." A vote for Bryan is a vote for hard times.

While the Tagals murdered the rest of the Philippine people, and especially slaughtered all who had shown friendliness to the Americans, and a preference for peace, all under Bryan's "protectorate," how could the United States keep away the other powers of the world, and their military and naval protection of their own people and property? Pretty as catspaws for Aguinaldo would the American soldiers and sailors be, at his beck and call to fight whenever he quarreled. Yet that is the Bryan plan, his only one.

SIGNIFICANT FACT.

Two most significant facts of the current campaign in its relation to the newspapers of the country may well be considered together. One is that not a single religious newspaper is an outspoken Bryan sympathizer. This on the authority of one of his strongest mugwump newspaper supporters. Along with this goes the fact that scarcely a southern newspaper of prominence is vigorous in its support of Bryan, and some of the most caustic criticism of his speeches and actions in the campaign come from his nominal newspaper supporters in the south.

DRED SCOTT DECISION.

REPUBLICAN POSITION IN 1860.

On the Same Ground Then as Now, That Congress Has Full Power to Govern All United States Territory Which Has Not Reached Statehood.

How the deadly virus of states rights, born of the determination to destroy the Union, if need be, to sustain human slavery, inheres in the Democracy! David B. Hill, of New York, in a speech at Brooklyn recently, declared that, "It is monstrous doctrine that the constitution does not extend to the territories." He added, by way of more complete explanation, that "it has only now been invoked to justify the proposed establishment of colonial governments, which are confessedly to be and to remain outside of the constitution." In this historical statement, Governor Hill is forty years out of the road; for the doctrine that he denounces was proudly incorporated by the Republican party in its national platform of 1860, upon which Abraham Lincoln stood at the time of his election to be president of the United States. The seventh plank in that platform reads:

"7. That the new dogma,—that the constitution, of its own force, carries slavery into any or all of the territories of the United States,—is a dangerous political heresy, at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, with contemporaneous exposition, and with legislative and judicial precedent; is revolutionary in its tendency and subversive of the peace and harmony of the country."

If this quotation is not plain enough to show the genesis of the present Democratic way of stating the doctrine that "the constitution follows the flag," that had its birth in support of human slavery, it is put beyond question by the eighth section of the Republican national platform of the same year, to-wit:

"8. That the normal condition of all the territory of the United States is that of freedom; that, as our republican fathers, when they had abolished slavery in all our national territory, ordained that 'no person should be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, it becomes our duty, by legislation, whenever such legislation is necessary, to maintain this provision of the constitution against all attempts to violate it; and we deny the authority of congress, of a territorial legislature, or of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States."

There is the Democratic party arraigned forty years ago for setting aside the express provisions of the constitution itself, in order to force slavery into free territory. That too, as today, was done under the very identical plea that they now put forward, that "the constitution of its own force carries slavery into any territory of the United States." Mr. Hill knows perfectly well where the Democratic party got its pretended warrant for the doctrine that it advocated forty years ago, and which it has now revived. In support of it, he quoted a United States supreme court decision, which he gave as "19 Howard, 393-477," denying that congress has plenary power to rule territory at its discretion.

Mr. Hill is too good a lawyer not to know that the quotation, whose origin he thus concealed under technical phrase, was really that most detested opinion of Chief Justice Taney, known as the Dred Scott decision, by which control over the extension of the area of slavery was denied to congress and to any and every territory; and its right to indefinite expansion was declared by a majority of the supreme court to be implied in the very terms of the constitution.

By the Dred Scott decision slavery was "ordained to be the irreversible law of the republic," and the basis of that decision survives today in the Democratic national platform adopted at Kansas City July 5, 1900, in the smoothly stated but misleading words that "the constitution follows the flag." This was born of that infamous decision, which the war shot to pieces, when it destroyed human slavery. The Democratic occasion of that day for the false doctrine has been destroyed, but the doctrine still survives, as pernicious as ever.

BRYAN'S HALF-LIE

CONCERNING SUFFRAGE IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

No Citizen There Has a Vote, Whether He Be White or Black—Some Facts That Show the Futility of Bryan's Contention About "Consent of the Governed."

Characteristic as one of Bryan's part truths that are more false than a full lie, is his reiteration that "the Republican party many years ago disfranchised the negro in the District of Columbia." And Bryan must surely know that for 25 years neither white nor black man has voted in the district, congress having disfranchised the citizens of the capital city for reasons it deemed fully sufficient. Thus right in the District of Columbia itself there has been for a quarter of a century, with the knowledge and consent of every party, complete proof of the power vested in congress over all territory of the United States not yet organized into states.

The three commissioners appointed by the president, without any part in their appointment by the residents of the district or its taxpayers, govern it absolutely under him, regulated only by such laws as the congress itself, elected from and for the entire country, may enact. Half of the entire expenditure of the district is paid in taxes by its property owners, and yet they can not vote. They are powerless to protect themselves, or to prevent any improper acts upon the part of their rulers. Here is indeed "taxation without representation," and that "without the consent of the governed." Washington City once had a council and an executive elected by its own people, but congress took these away years ago, and never a Democrat has yet said a word about this "bold and open violation of the nation's organic law," to quote the Porto Rico plank of the platform at Kansas City. All this, too, at the very capital of the nation, right under the immediate personal notice and knowledge of the United States supreme court, and of every Democratic senator and representative in congress. If ever anywhere "the constitution follows the flag," in the revived Democratic sense, the national capital, of all places, is the one for it. Yet here it is not, and has not been; and never one wail for it from the woe-mongers of the Democracy.

At this very hour, in Alaska, in Porto Rico, even in the Philippines, and in the Indian Territory itself, the local residents have more rights of self-rule than in the District of Columbia, for in all these territories there is local self-government, but there is not one bit of it in the District of Columbia.

SCHURZ'S FOOL IDEA.

Of all campaign absurdities the funniest is that Carl Schurz plan of electing Bryan, and then tying him up with a Republican congress. If he is right, he ought to have a congress of his own kind, and carry out his wildest notions. If he is wrong, he ought to be kept out of all chance for making mischief as president. The people of the country appreciate this exactly. An Iowa farmer hit it off to a nicety when he said to Dolliver the other day:

"They want us to elect Bryan and then tie him up, but I think the best way to keep him from doing any mischief is to tie him up to a haystack out on his farm in Nebraska and let him stay there. That is the best place for him."

"The people understand pretty well what the effect of electing Bryan will be, and they don't take much stock in this idea that his election will do no harm."

English and European expressions of sympathy for Bryan, and hope for his election, become more common and outspoken, and whenever found are traceable to their ill feeling over the loss of their trade gained by the United States under McKinley.

BRYAN ON MONEY.

HIS FALSE PROPHECIES MADE FOUR YEARS AGO.

Bryan prophesies that, in case of McKinley's election, the Union will be sacrificed to imperialism, and that every young man will have to enter the army. Bryan proved himself a poor prophet in 1896. At that time he said: "If McKinley and the Republican party should be victorious, and remain at the head of the government for the next four years, wages will be reduced and hard times will follow. The price of wheat will steadily decline, while that of gold will steadily rise; the capitalists will foreclose the mortgages on our homes; factories and workshops will be closed. We will not only not be able to export any goods, but will even have to import such for our own necessities. Ruin, suffering and misfortune will be our lot." Everybody knows that exactly the opposite happened.

In his despair Bryan grabs at the most foolish arguments to catch votes. Now he even harps about the German loan placed in New York. He calls attention to the fact that American capitalists fight with each other to make a loan which brings only 4 per cent, and asks whether it is one of the blessings of a gold standard that money leaves our country to go abroad—just as if the American people had such great love for the German government as to permit a monetary system which takes money abroad for investment. It is hardly worth while to waste time on such silly arguments. It serves, however, as an illustration of the fact that Bryan does not rely upon the principles of a statesman, but attempts to arouse the people with such fallacies. That he is not a friend of the Germans is well known, as he never had any use for a German, for his defeat in 1896 was their work. Bryan could not refrain from giving vent to his spite against the Germans, for soon after his defeat he said in a public meeting in Des Moines, Ia.:

"The last time we were defeated by the votes of foreigners. He had a majority of the American-born voters. The foreigners did not understand the issues at stake, and we could not furnish them the necessary campaign literature."

Of course, these ignorant foreigners, who could not understand Bryan, and who would not hear of his fraudulent silver dollar, were no others than the Germans.

A BRYAN DINNER PAIL.

REQUIRES GOLD CLAUSE.

"That the New York state Democratic organization is plainly for the gold standard," is the assertion of Charles J. Patterson, a prominent Brooklyn Democrat, who also says, "that the United States guarantees that every silver dollar issued by the government shall be maintained at equal value with each gold dollar." This is his interpretation of the money bill passed by the Republican congress against the Democratic opposition, but it is not strong enough to suit him,

for two mortgages recently taken by this good Bryan Democrat contain the stiffest sort of a stipulation for payment in gold. Four other Brooklyn money lenders have recently incorporated this gold provision in their mortgages, the call for them commencing at the start of the Bryan agitation.

TRUST DILEMMA.

Democratic Party Can Not Be Looked to For a Remedy.

Neither Bryan nor any other Democrat during the campaign has proposed a practical remedy, or in fact any one, for the trust evil. Once at Chicago Bryan suggested "that congress should pass a law providing that no corporation organized in any state should do business outside of the state in which it was organized until it received from some power created by congress a license authorizing it to do business outside of its own state."

Whether this would amount to anything or not, it suffers from a fatal defect—the decision of the United States supreme court that congress controls no corporations, except those engaged in commerce between the states, and that manufacturing is not such commerce.

This makes imperative a constitutional amendment; and, while Bryan in the same speech professed to favor it, his party voted solidly against such an amendment when they got the chance. The Democratic reason for opposition, too, is one that goes to the very root of the entire matter, because they base it upon that fundamental doctrine of Democracy, the rights of the states, too sacred to be touched.

Thus the Democratic position is that they are against an amendment, while the supreme court says, practically, that nothing can be done without an amendment. In a word, nothing can be done now or ever by the Democratic plan.

HOW ABOUT A GOOD LIVING?

"Imperialism is the overshadowing issue," says Vice Presidential Candidate Stevenson in his letter to the Populists, accepting their nomination; also that all other questions are "but as dust in the balance." The matter of a man's livelihood may be a mere trifle to Mr. Stevenson, and, like Mr. Bryan, he makes light literally of the full dinner pail, but the wage-earner who has to stand the loss of his work and wages, and thus to pay the bills, may not think it "dust in the balance." A vote for Bryan is a vote for hard times.

While the Tagals murdered the rest of the Philippine people, and especially slaughtered all who had shown friendliness to the Americans, and a preference for peace, all under Bryan's "protectorate," how could the United States keep away the other powers of the world, and their military and naval protection of their own people and property? Pretty as catspaws for Aguinaldo would the American soldiers and sailors be, at his beck and call to fight whenever he quarreled. Yet that is the Bryan plan, his only one.

SIGNIFICANT FACT.

Two most significant facts of the current campaign in its relation to the newspapers of the country may well be considered together. One is that not a single religious newspaper is an outspoken Bryan sympathizer. This on the authority of one of his strongest mugwump newspaper supporters. Along with this goes the fact that scarcely a southern newspaper of prominence is vigorous in its support of Bryan, and some of the most caustic criticism of his speeches and actions in the campaign come from his nominal newspaper supporters in the south.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1900.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION

The First Methodist Episcopal Church Was Filled With a Large Audience.

FULL LIST OF DELEGATES

The first session of the Women's Foreign Missionary society was held last night in the M. E. church. The church was crowded with delegates and friends, and the meeting was very interesting.

The session was opened with a short song service, followed by prayer by Mrs. Creighton. Mrs. Davis, the president, read the 96th and 100th Psalms, after which Dr. Crawford, assisted by Dr. Holtz, of Wellsville, and Rev. Orcutt, of the Second church, administered the sacrament of the Lord's supper.

Address of Welcome.

Miss Stella McNutt, of the local society, welcomed the visiting delegates in a very happy manner. The lady said it was customary on all occasions of this character to have an address of welcome, and that she had been chosen for that duty principally because she was not fitted for anything else. The person making the welcome address was supposed to say little else than welcome, consequently no one of any importance was ever assigned to that work. Of course that didn't apply to anyone other than herself. There was always a firstly, secondly and thirdly in addresses of welcome, but when all was said they each meant welcome. She welcomed them not only on behalf of the congregation of the First M. E. church, but in the name of all the denominations of the city. The speaker here related an instance of where a member of another congregation had insisted upon entertaining some of the visitors. So, when all the people had a word of welcome, it was hardly necessary for her to add anything.

The lady made mention of the strong desire on the part of the local society to have everything in perfect order for the reception and entertainment of their guests, especially in the arrangement of the church decorations and provisions for the comfort of the members of the society.

The speaker closed her address with the proposition that all indulge in an old Methodist hand shake. She said: "I am going to shake hands with Mrs. Davis here, and I want everyone to shake hands with their neighbor."

Response of Mrs. Eddy, of Berea.

Mrs. S. W. Eddy, of Berea, O., responded to the address of welcome and in a few well chosen words thanked the members of the local society and members of the church generally for their cordial welcome.

The lady is a speaker of rare ability and her address was listened to with rapt attention. The remainder of the lady's remarks were along the line of the work in hand, and dealt with the self-sacrifice that should be made in order that the work of the Master might be carried out more effectively in foreign lands.

While attending the University of Baltimore some 20 years ago, the message had come to her, and from that time to the present the tenth of her income had gone to the Master. She made an eloquent appeal for more funds to carry on the work in foreign lands.

Rev. Clancy, of India, had been in the North Ohio conference recently, and from him it was learned of the true state of affairs now existing in his field of labor. But the great need of more funds was the draw back. There were 2,000 or 3,000 consecrated young men and women who were ready and willing to enter the missionary field, but the treasury was empty. They should not need to increase the personal contributions, what was more important is the necessity of interesting more people in the work. The churches that were already established in India supported themselves. The crying need was for funds to widen the work; to spread the gospel in new fields. The speaker related the instance of one native minister in India for an example of the devotion of the converted population. They were gathering funds for the establishment of new missions in the outlying districts. The man had no money, but came forward and took off his coat and contributed that for the advancement of the work.

She had wondered, especially in the last few days, if the poor native was to outdo her in devotion. She had given the tenth to the Master for years. Through a short period of happy wedded life and during some 14 years of widowhood, with the cares attendant upon the rearing of two children, she had continued the contribution of the tenth. The sacrifice had not been too great. She had never been in want. Still she felt it was not enough and proposed adopting a new plan. She would do more. She was going to give until it hurt, and then keep on giving until it didn't hurt.

The speaker exhorted all to go back home with the firm resolve to give at least the tenth to the Master's work.

The lady closed with a reference to the immortal Nathan Hale, whose only regret was that he had but one life to give for his country. Like him she regretted she had but one life to give to God.

Mrs. Clara Zink, of Steubenville, rendered the solo, "Rock of Ages," in a pleasing manner, after which Mrs. C. W. Barnes, secretary of the branch, announced that all delegates who had not been provided with quarters should call at the assigning table in the lecture room, where the matter would be attended to.

The president noted the presence of the men in attendance, assuring them they would be heartily welcomed at all sessions of the convention.

Dr. Crawford pronounced the benediction, and the remainder of the evening was given over to a reception, in which all participated.

THE MORNING SESSION.

Several Committees Were Appointed And Much Business Transacted.

This morning's session opened promptly at 9:30 o'clock, the devotional exercises being in charge of the president, Mrs. Davis, who read for the scripture lesson Matthew 26 6-13. This was followed by an experience meeting, in which the sisters quoted hymns and gospel verses, which had been helpful to them during the past year.

After the reading of the rules of order the time for closing the morning session was placed at 12:30. The delegates were then introduced and seated, East Ohio conference leading in number of delegates present.

Miss Rue Sellers, of India, and Dr. Donahue, of China, were then introduced, after which the following committees were appointed:

Resolutions—Mrs. B. F. Jackson, Mrs. Dr. Hillman, Mrs. Blakeley.

Nomination of delegates to general executive committee—Cincinnati conference, Mrs. E. T. Brewster; Ohio conference, Mrs. M. P. Adams; Central Ohio conference, Mrs. Payne; North Ohio conference, Mrs. K. A. Weber; East Ohio conference, Mrs. Woodruff; West Virginia, Mrs. J. T. Ross; Kentucky, Mrs. Robson.

Mrs. Philip Roetinger was appointed a committee on investments and wills, and Mrs. E. T. Brewster and Mrs. Carr will act temporarily with Mrs. John Mitchell on the committee on by-laws.

Mrs. Hendershot was appointed to report a plan by which the young people's work can be made more effective. The branch treasurer made several suggestions in reference to the manner in which reports should be sent to her.

On motion it was decided to omit the detailed report of the treasurer from the "Friend," and print it in the Branch Quarterly.

Article 3 of the constitution was referred to the committee on by-laws, as some changes were deemed necessary.

Miss Grace Dawson rendered a beautiful solo, entitled "A Dream of Paradise."

Mrs. E. S. Emerson, of the Cincinnati conference, presented an interesting report of the year, which showed the receipts to be $14,547 53.

The conference report of the Tennessee division was read by the secretary, Mrs. Barnes.

Miss Sellers was then introduced and talked very interestingly on "Conditions in India." In the course of her remarks she reported that there were 110,000 Methodists in India and 450 schools.

In the absence of Mrs. Orville Townsend, Dr. Donahue spoke eloquently on the subject of literature, recommending various leaflets and books as excellent for instruction.

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. William McRea.

A PRETTY SIGHT.

The Decorations at the First M. E. Church Are Very Handsome.

Those in charge of the decorations at the First M. E. church have true artistic taste. The effect is very pleasing. The floral display is a very handsome one. The inscription in front of the organ attracts immediate attention on entering the room. It reads: "For God and Home and Every Land." You have a special invitation to attend the convention. Accept it. You can, if you will, have rich reward. The Master is in company with these noble Christian women.

Convention Notes.

Miss Stella McNutt, our young townswoman, made a neat address of welcome at the First M. E. church last night, and the response by Mrs. S. W. Eddy, of Berea, was a gem of the first water from the standpoint of the missionary heart and spirit.

Christian life and character speaks in the human face in unmistakable manner. Do you doubt it? The doubt will be dispelled if you attend the sessions of the Woman's Foreign Missionary convention now being held in East Liverpool; and the Christian women will be very glad to greet you.

OUR "DEAR BOY" LETTER. NO. 9

Some Advice About His Ballot.

His Daddy Tells Him That No
American Voter Should Stay
Away From the Polls.

AND HIS FATHER WAS RIGHT

Every Republican in old Columbiana county should read this letter and take the good advice given:

My Dear Boy—You say that you are tired of working for old man Skinner, and are thinking of going west this fall, where wages are higher. You ask what I think about it.

Well, I have no objection to your going west, but I don't want you to go until after the election. This is the first time in your life that you ever had an opportunity to exercise your right as an American citizen in voting for a president of the United States. I don't want you to lose your vote for the following reasons:

1. The only possible chance of the election of Bryan comes from the over-confidence of Republicans. It makes me sad to hear a man say: "Oh, McKinley is going to be elected, anyhow. There is no danger. I have arrangements made to be in California in November, but you won't need my vote."

Especially do I regret to hear talk of this kind among some of the railroad men. If any class of men ought to come up unanimously to the support of McKinley and the Republican party, that class is composed of the railroad men of this country. Four years ago there were thousands of cars sidetracked, no building and but little repairing going on, and general stagnation in the railroad business. Now new roads, new roadbeds, new cars, the cars crowded with trains, full time and better pay bless the railroad men of this country. And it vexes me to hear a railroad man say: "I would have to lay off a day to vote, and I guess I'll not do that. There will be plenty to elect McKinley without me." Well, if by any possibility McKinley should be defeated, just such men as that will have themselves to blame.

My son, you are one of the sovereigns of the United States, and you have no more right to neglect the duties pertaining to your high calling than the emperor of Germany has to neglect the government of that mighty empire. To vote is a matter of inestimable privilege, and also a matter of earnest, conscientious duty.

Two years ago you enlisted to fight for your country as a soldier, but the surgeon turned you down and would not let you go. I sympathized with you in the bitterness of your disappointment. I knew that love of country led you to enlist, and I was proud because you wanted to go. And I think that the surgeon was a little over-particular. You would have made a good soldier. But I want you to realize that you serve your country as fully when you cast an honest ballot as if you were a soldier in the fight. Perhaps you can do more good with the ballot than you could with the gun. Your country did not seem to need you as a soldier, but your country does need you in the realm of citizenship.

3. No matter how long you may live, you will never have an opportunity to vote for better men than this year. We have a magnificent ticket. McKinley and Roosevelt! What a superb combination. They are both statesmen and both heroes, one of the great civil war and one of the war for the deliverance of Cuba. McKinley, steady, earnest, thoughtful, calm, kind and faithful; Roosevelt, impetuous, but efficient, brave and dashing, with both moral and physical courage. Was there ever a better ticket or one which more thoroughly commands the respect, the confidence and the affection of the American people?

If you don't stay and vote you will be sorry for it 20 years from now. Make some sacrifice for your country's sake. Oh, my boy, you must not go until the election is over. And when in November the ballots fall "As Snowflakes fall upon the sod, And execute the freedman's will, As lightning does the will of God," Cast your vote and then sleep sweetly that night, with a sense of duty faithfully done. YOUR FATHER.

REV. CARSON.

He Will Preach His Farewell Sermon
Night.

Rev. Carson returned from the annual conference at Oxford, Ohio, last evening. Bishop B. Arnett was in charge. Conference was in session five days, closing last Sunday night. About 75 churches were represented. East Liverpool made the best showing in the conference, according to membership. Rev. Carson will go to Urbana, Ohio. We are very glad to note that this is a good appointment, one of the best in the North Ohio conference. Rev. John Mason, late of Finley, Ohio, will assume charge of the East Liverpool circuit. He is said to be a good and strong man. He was here some 12 years ago, and assisted in digging for the foundation of the present church structure.

Rev. Carson will preach his farewell sermon at this point next Sunday night. The reverend gentleman, accompanied by his helpmate and four boys, will leave for their new station next Wednesday. They will take with them the good wishes of a host of citizens of East Liverpool. Rev. Carson and his noble wife have, under the blessing of the Master, been a power for good in this community. They will have their reward in due time. God speed them, is the wish of the News Review.

MINOR MATTERS

LOOKED AFTER AT COUNCIL

Without Long Drawn Out
Discussions.

Arnold and Cripps were the only members of council absent last night, and the meeting was called to order at 7:40 o'clock and adjourned at 9:15.

President Marshall reported that the ordinance committee were not ready to make a report on the vehicle ordinance, as there were many things they had to look into before presenting it to council.

An ordinance to pave Rural lane, from Jackson street to lot 504, was passed and the clerk will advertise for bids.

The question of Prospect street was brought up again and it was the sense of council that the board of education should put the street in passable condition.

Marshall asked if the Rock Springs Railway company had ever presented their check for the $880 due the city. As they haven't the clerk was instructed to go after Attorney McDonald and get the amount.

Charles Swan is blockading a sidewalk on Pennsylvania avenue with some stone. The street commissioner will order him to remove the stone, and if he don't do it the city will do the work and charge it to him.

C. Metsch was given permission to erect scales in Hague alley, between Third and Fourth streets.

Commissioner Bryan reported that the owner of the Fourth street sidewalk that was lower than the rest refused to raise it, and Peach, Cripps and Marshall make up a special committee that will try to straighten matters out.

Engineer George stated that in paying Kossuth street he had got rid of a dangerous gutter at the corner of Walnut street. He was given permission to put in a new stone gutter on the other side of the street.

REPEALED.

Parties Can Now Bring Stuff to the
Want To.

Council last evening received a communication from Mayor Davidson stating that he had received numerous protests against the ordinance prohibiting people from coming into the city and doing business.

He said his protests came from merchants and citizens, who considered it an unjust discrimination, and as it restricted trade was considered unconstitutional.

Council at once repealed the section, and now people can bring stuff to the city by the car load if they want to.

Young Women

The entry into womanhood is a critical time for a girl. With her whole being undergoing a change, the seeds of female troubles are sown. Little menstrual disorders, if neglected at the time, will follow the woman all her life and grow into fatal complications. That female troubles are robbing homes and filling graveyards, proves this. Yet, irregular and painful menstruation are often permitted to go on, sapping the life and energy, while Wine of Cardui, the positive relief for these ills, is on the shelf of every drug store. Wine of Cardui helps the maiden sustain the shock of puberty by inducing a painless and natural menstrual flow. When once this important function is started right, a healthy life will usually follow. Wine of Cardui is an emmenagogue of great power, and works wonders in strengthening the delicate and sensitive female organs. Many young women owe their lives to Wine of Cardui. No woman should give up hope until she has given Wine of Cardui a trial. If thousands have secured relief through it, why not you?

WINE OF CARDUI

Tully, Kas., Feb. 24, 1899.
I have suffered untold pain at menstrual periods for a long time; was nervous, had no appetite, and lost interest in everything; in fact was miserable. I have taken four bottles of Wine of Cardui with Black-Draught when needed and to-day I am entirely cured. I cannot express the thanks I feel for what you have done for me.

Soon Taken.

Last evening at council Peach called attention to the deplorable condition of the river bank in the vicinity of the garbage furnace. He said "it was a disgrace to any community and was something horrible."

A motion that the nuisance be abated before the next meeting or the franchise of the Sanitary Reduction company would be revoked, carried unanimously.

A FEW OF THE DEMOCRACY

Populists and Silver Men Who Have Deserted Bryan For
McKinley

ARE LOVERS OF PROSPERITY

They Are Believers In Expansion,
Industry, Loyalty and Sound
Money.

NEW CONVERTS EVERY DAY

W. M. Stewart, Nevada, United States senator. McKinley promises the better administration. Bryan preached treason in encouraging the Filipinos to resist.

Lee Mantle, Butte, Montana, ex-United States senator. Bryan would degrade the American flag.

James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency under President Cleveland. Afraid of free silver and against Bryanism.

W. D. Bynum, ex-congressman and Democrat, Indiana. Favors sound money and scouts the idea of "imperialism."

Colonel Oliver C. Sabin, formerly secretary of the Silver Knights of America. The present money standard has proved the best. Free trade means pauperism. Is an expansionist.

W. A. Peffer, Kansas, ex-United States senator. Bryan's action in connection with the Philippines is treason.

Hon. Charles Denby, of Evansville, Ind., President Cleveland's minister to China. Mr. Bryan first urged the purchase of the Philippines from Spain, and then, as soon as the lands were purchased he set up the cry of imperialism, and harps upon it night and day, which he knows to be false.

W. E. English, Indianapolis, ex-congressman, and son of the Democratic nominee for vice president in 1880. For expansion and sound money and for supporting an honest administration.

Joseph H. Outhwaite, of Columbus, O., ex-congressman and a leader of his party. Want sound money. Nothing in imperialism.

Hon. J. Sterling Morton, Nebraska, ex-President Cleveland's secretary of agriculture. Against Bryanism.

Hon. James E. Boyd, the only Democratic governor Nebraska ever had. Imperialism is impossible and free silver a mistake.

Dennis A. Hayes, president Green Glass International association: "I do not allow politics to mix with my business affairs, but I cannot help thinking how politics and business go together. I hope for Mr. McKinley's election from the workingman's standpoint. When the Wilson law became effective our trade was reduced 15 per cent in wages. After McKinley was elected wages were restored. I am an expansionist."

General E. M. Rosser, Virginia, ex-confederate. Sound money.

Ex-Mayor Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, formerly congressman. Wants stable money system.

Melville E. Ingalls, president "Big

Four" railroad. Wants a continuance of prosperity and sound money.

Charles S. Fairchild, of New York, ex-secretary of the treasury under President Cleveland. For sound money.

General Daniel E. Sickles, soldier, ex-congressman, New York. "The flag now floats, and will never cease to float, over the islands in the Atlantic and Pacific. No man will ever see it come down."

Judge W. B. Hornblower, the eminent attorney, New York. Nominated for supreme court bench of the United States by President Cleveland. Afraid of Bryanism in all its branches.

James M. Peck, United States district attorney of Pennsylvania—A man is of that party with which he sympathizes, whatever he may call himself. If, therefore, one believes in free silver and in hauling down the American flag in the Philippines, he is a Democrat; but if he believes in honest money and in the supremacy of the flag in our territorial possessions, he is a Republican. Between these I had no hesitation in choosing. I am no longer a Democrat; I am a Republican.

Wm. T. Baker, leading business man, ex-president of board of trade, Chicago. Prosperity, sound money, and believes in supporting the administration.

General E. S. Bragg, Wisconsin. No use for Bryanism.

General John Gill, of Baltimore, Md., president of the Mercantile Trust and Deposit company, and a well-known Democrat in that section: "How can sound money Democrats and reputable citizens join in supporting this candidate (Bryan)?"

Alonzo B. Colt, business man and late colonel Fourth Ohio, which participated in the Porto Rico campaign. "The flag will never be hauled down at dictation from foreign or domestic foes, nor will its protection be removed, if needed, by a man or woman, white, black, or yellow, over whom it floats."

Ex-Mayor E. B. Pond, of San Francisco, Democratic candidate for governor of California, 1890. Sound money and expansion.

Roswell Miller, chairman of the board of directors, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad. "If Bryan were elected there would be woeful times in this country."

And there are thousands more to follow, all over this great and glorious nation; men who love Old Glory and the gallant boys who march and fight under her folds; men who love prosperity and have at heart the real welfare of the masses; men who believe in honest money and an honest government. And still they will come.

BRYAN'S TRUST REMEDY.

Would Have the Federal Government License Them—Put Their Products on the Free List.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 10.—Wm. J. Bryan witnessed a great demonstration on his visit here. Giving his remedy for trusts he said:

"First, put every trust-made article on the free list, so that it will not be able to plunder people at home while they sell abroad in competition with the world. We propose this legislation; that every corporation engaged in interstate commerce shall be compelled to take out a license from the federal government; that license to be given upon conditions which will make a monopoly impossible. Then squeeze the water out of the stock of the corporation; you will have a flood for a while, but there will be honest corporations afterward.

"Second, require that the corporation shall show that it is not attempting and has not attempted in the past to monopolize any branch of business or the production of any article of merchandise, and then provide for a revocation of the license if the conditions are not complied with."

Speeches were also made at some other places.

REQUEST OF MR. BRYAN.

Asks Committees to Have Speakers at the Depots.

Macomb, Ill., Oct. 10.—W. J. Bryan asked the Associated Press to make public the following:

"The trip would be much easier and much more satisfactory if the local committees would observe the request that has been repeatedly made, namely, that the place of meeting should be at the depot, where I can speak from the rear of the car or from a platform erected within a few feet of the train. Sometimes a committee insists on a parade from the depot to the middle of the town, even when the stop is short. Such a parade not only consumes the time that might otherwise be used in speaking, but it adds to the fatigue of the journey and then subjects me to the danger of taking cold. At short stops it is necessary to speak rapidly, and if I then have to ride a quarter or a half a mile in the carriage I am chilled before I can reach the car. I am doing all the work that I think it safe to do, and I hope that local committees will recognize this and hereafter arrange for speaking at the depot."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1900.

BRYAN ON GOLD STANDARD.

"If there is any one who believes the gold standard is a good thing, or that it must be maintained, I warn him not to cast his vote for me, because I promise him it will not be maintained in this country longer than I am able to get rid of it."

This language was used by Hon. William Jennings Bryan in a speech at Knoxville, Tenn., on September 16, 1896.

SACRAMENTAL.

It was a solemn scene at the First M. E. church last night when the workers in the vineyard of the Master, gathered from many parts of our land, partook of the emblems representative of the broken body and shed blood of the meek and lowly Nazarene, the Savior of the world.

MISSIONS.

We have a notable gathering in our city at the present time in the convention being held in the First M. E. church. Our visitors form a band of noble women, dedicated to the service of the Master in connection with mission work. They are believers in the combination known as "Faith and Works." They believe in the power of prayer and in the power of a consecrated pocket book. Mrs. Eddy, of Berea, hit the key note of giving in her response to the address of welcome last night, when she said: "Give until it hurts; and then continue to give until it quits hurting." In other words, make a sacrifice in favor of the Master's work; and, if the giving is in the right spirit, prompted by the right motive, you will receive such a blessing at His hands as will bury the sacrifice out of sight. Church members of all denominations have an earnest, hearty, cordial invitation to these meetings.

BY THOUSANDS.

All over the country the voters are flocking to the standard of McKinley and Roosevelt. Thousands of men who voted for Bryan in 1896 will vote for McKinley in the month of November, 1900. Why? What good reason will they have for the change in their ballot? Simply that McKinley has kept every promise he made in 1896, and that the statements he then made respecting the industries of the nation, and the general prosperity thereof have come true; while each and every one of the prophecies of disaster made by William Jennings Bryan have been made conspicuous by their falsity and absurdity. The government of the United States is now built on a magnificent financial basis; prosperity rules from one end of the country to the other; foreign nations, strong and powerful, respect us as never before in our history; we are loaning money to the great powers of the world. Under the splendid leadership of William McKinley, the nation has stepped out from the position of a pauper and away from an empty treasury, and now makes magnificent strides from an exchequer filled with debt to its equivalent, while our credit is second to no other country on the face of the earth, and our national flag stands unimpaired and unimpaired. The Republican party has built a splendid structure, a

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Whereas we respectfully call the attention of our agents, and the music-loving public in general, to the fact that certain parties are manufacturing and have placed upon the market a cheap piano, bearing a name so similar to our own (with a slight difference in spelling) that the purchaser may be led to believe that he is purchasing a genuine "Sohmer Piano."

We deem it our duty to those who have been favorably impressed with the fine quality and high reputation of the "Sohmer Piano" to warn them against the possibility of an imposition by unscrupulous dealers or agents. Every genuine "Sohmer Piano" has the above Trade Mark stamped upon the sounding board.

magnificent government, under the blessing of the Master; and if the party will but do its full duty, and rise to the majesty of the great responsibility entrusted to its care, it will remain in power for these many years. Democracy has been tried and found wanting, and the verdict of the masses is that William Jennings Bryan is not, by any manner of means, a safe leader for the nation. Mr. Bryan is the advocate of dead issues and fossilized ideas. William McKinley is the leader of the living present and the advocate of prosperity and progress.

STRUCK THE CONSTABLE.

Alvin Huff Will Now Answer to Two Charges Instead of One.

When Constable Miller went to arrest Alvin Huff last night on a charge of assault, preferred by H. M. Lambright, who resides in St. Clair township, near Calcutta, Huff hit him in the back, kicked his feet from under him and ran.

Miller notified Officer Dawson, who arrested Huff and took him to the court of Squire Rose, where he pleaded not guilty and was bound over in the sum of $100. Not being able to furnish the bond he was locked up.

The assault was committed in the alley in the rear of the Whittenberger block.

This morning a second warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Huff on a charge of resisting and assaulting an officer, the penalty of which is $5 fine or 30 days or both.

JUSTIFIED.

People Who Saw Bettridge Make That Arrest Say He Took the Right Course.

Parties who witnessed the arrest of Anthony Monahan last Sunday say that Fireman Bettridge was perfectly justified in making the arrest, as Monahan was given three chances to go home and was very offensive in the language he used to the officer.

PEACH'S REMARKS PERSONAL

SEVERAL CONTRACTS PAID OFF

An estimate of the work done on Fourth street by Ryan & Rinehart amounted to $11,230 77. They had been paid on account $10,500 and this left a balance due them of $730 77. The engineer had not measured the street, and Nice moved the amount be retained until council received the exact figures. H. S. Rinehart said the work had been finished since August 20 and they needed the money.

Peach said the bill should be paid and said Nice was the first to want to let a contract and now he wanted to raise an objection to paying the bill when the work had been done for two months.

Nice rose to a point of order and tried to interrupt the speaker by stating that he had no right to be personal. President Marshall rapped for order, and Peach said he had a right to speak his mind and he was talking right to the point. He then amended the motion and the contractors were given $500 on account.

Thomas McLaughlin was given $2,000 on account on Pennsylvania avenue.

Ryan & Rinehart were given $5,000 on account on Calcutta road after the engineer stated they had that much coming to them, and the contractor said they had $6,000 worth of paving done.

Ryan & Rinehart were given $906.90 for paving Rural lane.

BEINDHEIM'S.

James S. Rinehart was given $140.33, the balance due on Robinson street.

The bills of H. C. Walter, $82; Standard livery, livery hire, $24 50, and hauling pipe, $31 28, that were laid over by the claims committee, were ordered paid.

The pay roll was then passed under a suspension of the rules.

DR. E. F. LARKINS

Can Now be Found on Second Floor of First National Bank Building.

The many friends and patrons of Dr. E. F. Larkins will be glad to learn that he has again resumed the practice of his profession in East Liverpool. The doctor has discovered that East Liverpool has been booming during his absence, as he found it quite difficult to secure suitable office quarters. He is now snugly fixed, however, and will be pleased to meet his old-time friends and acquaintances. Take the elevator and avoid unnecessary fatigue.

Dr. Larkins needs no commendation at our hands. He has been in our city for many years and has effected cures in many cases which were pronounced almost miraculous. He diagnoses a case promptly, and gives his decision as to whether or not it can be cured; and when he announces that he can effect a cure, you can rely upon his statement to the very letter, and there are many old-time patrons of his now in East Liverpool who will vouch for the truth of this assertion.

and Gave Rev. Jordan

Frank H. Croxall, Superintendent
Rayman and Rev. Jordan Delivered Pleasing Addresses.

AFFAIR WAS ENJOYED BY ALL

The reception tendered at the First Presbyterian church last evening to
the new pastor, Rev. Charles G. Jordan,
was attended by fully 600 people,
and was a very flattering success.

Frank H. Croxall, on behalf of the congregation, made a very neat
speech, welcoming the pastor to our
midst and assuring him of the hearty
cooperation of the congregation in his
labors in the city.

Superintendent Rayman made the
address of welcome on behalf of the Sunday school, and in a few well
chosen words extended to the new pastor the assistance and welcome of
the Sunday school.

Rev. Jordan responded to both addresses in a pleasing way. Told of his
call to this city and of his acceptance.
He spoke of the work here and stated
that great good might be done in the
city.

Solos were sung by Miss Margaret Baxter and Miss Harrison, and were enjoyed by all, as was a piano solo by Miss Bessie Adams.

The affair then resolved itself into
a social and everyone shook hands.

Refreshments, consisting of ice
cream and cake, were served.

EXPLANATORY.

Mrs. William Wedgwood Makes a Statement Respecting the Saturday Night Fuss.

Mrs. William Wedgwood called at
the News Review office today and stated
that her husband did not threaten
to kill his children during his ram-
page on Saturday night last, and that he did not have a bread knife in his possession. We make this statement
by request of Mrs. Wedgwood. But we have the story of Saturday night's difficulty from absolutely reliable parties who were on the spot at the time, and these parties say that the
officer treated his man better than
he should have done, that he was
very merciful and lenient, and that
the actions and language of Wedg-
wood were outrageous in the extreme.

THE OTHER SIDE.

Mr. Bursner Declares That There is Nothing Wrong at the Garbage Fur-
nace—Dr. Ogden Speaks.

Mr. Bursner was seen today respecting the complaint, and tried to see Mr.
Peach, but was unable to do so. Dr.
Ogden, health officer, was interviewed; but, as he and Health Officer
Burgess had been down to the point
designated a dozen times, and found
nothing wrong, he did not deem it
worth while to repeat the trip. Mr.
Bursner is anxious that Mr. Peach
and the members of council shall visit
the spot in question, as he believes
them to be fair men, and that they
will give a fair verdict.

Georgetown is all stirred up over a sensation concerning prominent indi-

the story given by a reliable party,

at stake in which good can be accom-

give offense.

HAS A VARIED CLIMATE.

Curious Meteorological Conditions
of the Island of Saghalien.

Saghalien, off the eastern coast of Siberia, presents a very curious anomaly of climate. The island is bathed
by two cold ocean currents, and in winter nothing protects it against the
icy northwest winds coming from Siberia. At the sea level the snow falls
continually and stays on the ground
till the end of May; and the seashore is
very cold. Farther inland, however,
especially as we go higher up, the
climate is modified—just the opposite
to what is observed elsewhere. It has often been observed in Siberia and in
central Europe that in winter the cold
is greater in the plains and the valleys
and that the highlands have a sensibly
milder temperature; it is as if the denser cold air accumulated in the low
lands.

The cold air accumulates in the low
regions of the island, and on the coast
the higher regions have a more elevated temperature. So it happens that the
lower parts have an arctic vegetation,
while the intermediate altitudes have
the vegetation of a temperate zone,
sometimes subtropical. The birch, the
pine, the fir, abound in the low regions
and form often impenetrable forests,
but toward the center of the island appear bamboos, hydrangeas, azalias and
other plants that one is greatly surprised to meet, and whose presence
can be explained only by the altogether
abnormal climatic conditions of the island.—Newcastle (Eng.) Chronicle.

ELIJAH W. HILL, Real Estate Dealer, Second Floor Grand Building, ^{Corner Sixth} and Washington, EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

DO YOU WISH TO BUY OR SELL REAL ESTATE? If so, consult us.

We have the facilities for accommodating you. Having made real estate dealing a specialty for some time, we have become established in the business. Every day brings us new business and nearly every day sees a deal consummated. Our volume of business grows out of the reasonableness of our charges. We never speculate on other peoples' property. The price set by the owner is the price the purchaser pays. We do not conduct our business on the "get rich quick" plan. Our patrons appreciate this and show it by sending us other patrons. Owners of property who desire to sell the same will do well to place it on our sale list. Those intending to purchase property will do well to consult us before buying.

In all of our business we take care of the interests of both owner and
parties is what we seek.

Owners who want a quick sale and will offer a genuine bargain can be accommodated at all times by us. Purchasers, who want a bargain, can take advantage of these offers if they will let us know that they are in the market for such.

Those who have but little money, say from $50 to $100, can buy a home
from us at any time, the balance being paid on installments at the rate of $1 monthly to the $100 of indebtedness, which pays both interest and principal, with privilege of paying faster. The large assortment of properties
we have constantly on sale enables us to usually suit you.

DO YOU WISH FIRE INSURANCE? This is another branch of our business. We represent ten different companies, all of high standard. We insure dwellings, barns, mercantile buildings, factories, merchandise, household goods, etc. We write at regular rates. We think it unfair to give what is known as "cut rates." As a basis for dwelling rates, we would say that a frame, slate roof building which stands unexposed by other buildings for the space of 25 feet on all sides, will cost you 35 cents per $100 insurance
for one year; 70 cents per $100 for three years; or, $1 per $100 for five years. This applies to household goods as well. Household goods are just as valuable, proportionately to you as the house is to its owner, and we often wonder why so many owners of household goods let themselves be exposed to loss, and often lose them when insurance rates are so reasonable.

BONDS, STOCKS AND INVESTMENTS we also handle. We can sell
you local stocks, bonds and investments, and also corporation, bank and railroad stocks and bonds. Not much business in this line has developed here
yet, but by your co-operation with us, either as a buyer or seller, will be all that is necessary to develop such.

HOUSE RENTING as a business is what East Liverpool has needed for some time. In our renting department, you find such and every day is adding to its utility. If you have any properties to rent place them with us and see if it does not profit you.

All kinds of notarial work executed, such as acknowledgements, writing of wills, deeds, mortgages, contracts and agreements. We also procure marriage licenses.

Loaning of money on real estate is another feature of our business. We negotiate loans for a reasonable charge, the rate of interest depending on the class of security and amount wanted. Those who have money to put out should avail themselves of our facilities for doing this kind of business.
No charges to the lender.

To the public we extend free of charge our services in the way of supplying information of a general nature concerning our city and vicinity.
We try to have at all times just what you want to know.

We open this week a free bureau for the accommodation of those who are seeking houses to rent and landlords who are seeking tenants. We are constantly besieged with applications for houses for rent. To this end we invite all owners of rentable houses in the city or vicinity to let us know
when they want or will want a tenant. If they will do so we will refer in-quirers to them, making no charge whatever, either to applicant or owner.
Landlords by doing this need never have a house empty for more than a day.

In the above we have endeavored to give you the general nature of the business in which we engage. We ask but a continuance of the patronage
and valuable service.

GEN. BLACK ALL RIGHT.

General John C. Black, the eminent
Illinois Democrat, surprised the Republican committee of that state the
other day by a letter offering his services upon the stump to help elect Mc
Kinley and beat Bryan. The Democratic declaration that "the paramount
issue" is opposition to the authority
of the government for which he fought,
and encouragement to its enemies in
arms, made his soldier blood boil,
though neither the surrender to 16 to 1 nor the Populist alliance were able
quite to move him. General Black represents many Americans who are
patriots first, patriots afterwards, and
are against Bryan's "paramount" preference for Aguinaldo and his "half-
breed Chinamen."

CONGER NAMES GUILTY

Chinese, Who Should Suffer With Prince Tuan.

THE FRENCH NOTE CONSIDERED.

A More or Less Definite Conclusion Reached, but M. Thiebault Informed That Final Action Had Not Yet Been Taken—Edict to Punish Leaders.

Washington, Oct. 10.—The cabinet meeting held on the return of President and Mrs. McKinley to the city was devoted almost exclusively to a discussion of the Chinese situation. Special consideration was given to the French note, and it is understood that a more or less definite conclusion was reached as to the nature of the reply which will be made by this government, but it has not yet been put in diplomatic form.

It developed that Mr. Conger, in compliance with a suggestion from Secretary Had had submitted to the state department a list of 10 or 12 names of Chinese officials who were prominent in the Boxer movement against the foreigners and in a measure were responsible for the assaults upon the legations in Peking. These officials, Mr. Conger believes, should be included with Prince Tuan and others in any punishments which are to be inflicted upon those who took a prominent part in the Peking outrages. It is not unlikely that the position of this government, in regard to the punishment of these officials will be stated in the French note.

It is conceded that the failure of the effort to induce the Chinese court to return to Peking has done much to retard the peace negotiations, although these are still possible if the authority conferred upon Li Hung Chang and Prince Ching is sufficient.

General Chaffee continues to execute the program for the withdrawal of the military forces already outlined and he has notified the war department that he will have all of his men except the legion guard out of China inside of a fortnight.

M. Thiebault, the French charge d'affaires, called on Secretary Hay, but learned that final action had not yet been taken on the French note and that it would be some days before the response would be ready.

Peking, Oct. 6.—Prince Ching has received an edict from the emperor, dated Oct. 1, in reply to a note sent at the request of the legations, saying he will return to Peking as soon as negotiations take a favorable turn.

Peking, Oct. 7, via Tien Tsin, Oct. 8, Shanghai, Oct. 9.—A response to the German demand has been transmitted to Li Hung Chang. This says that Ying Nien, president of the censorate; Yang Yi, assistant grand secretary and president of the civil board, and Chao Shu Chiao, president of the board of punishment, will be decapitated; that Prince Chwang, Duke Tsai Lan and Prince Yi will be sentenced to life imprisonment, and that Prince Tuan will be banished to the imperial military post roads on the Siberian frontier as a further punishment for aiding the Boxers.

'GOEBEL ISN'T DEAD!'

Hysterical Cry of Youtsey In Court.

SOME BELIEVE HE IS DEMENTED.

Georgetown, Ky., Oct. 10.—During the trial of Henry E. Youtsey, charged with being a principal in the shooting of Governor Goebel, a sensational scene occurred. Arthur Goebel was put on the stand, and Judge Ben Williams did the questioning. Arthur Goebel said:

Just at this point Youtsey arose behind his attorneys and in a loud voice said, "It is untrue; it is a lie; I never spoke a word to that man in my life nor he to me."

Colonel Crawford told him to be quiet and sit down and others took hold of him. "I will not sit down. I never said a word to that man—it is untrue." He was shouting by this time and everyone was becoming excited.

Youtsey's wife sprang to his side, and while endeavoring to make him sit down could be heard saying, "Now you have killed my husband, I suppose you are satisfied." Then Youtsey hysterically shouted again, "I am innocent—there is no blood on my hands; these men are swearing my life away." Two or three deputy sheriffs went over and grabbed him. He struggled wildly and said, "Let me alone—I will not sit down."

Arthur Goebel meanwhile sat sphinx-like in the witness chair and never turned his head. Finally after Youtsey was forced into a seat he shouted again, "Goebel is not dead—all the demons in hell could not kill him."

"Mr. Sheriff, if the defendant does not behave himself put handcuffs on him," said Judge Cantrill. Meanwhile the audience could not be forced to keep their seats until the judge threatened to fine those who stood up. Youtsey settled back in his chair, closed his eyes and seemed in a state of collapse. He waved his handkerchief above his head in an aimless sort of way, and groaned and cried hysterically. Finally quiet was restored and Judge Williams asked Arthur Goebel another question, when Colonel Crawford asked a postponement of the trial until today, on account of the defendant's condition. Judge Cantrill said he could see no cause or reason for the defendant's outbreak, but in justice to his attorneys he would postpone the case until today. Mr. Franklin said the commonwealth had not the slightest objection. Youtsey still occupied his chair with his eyes closed, apparently in a half-fainting condition. After the crowd passed out, Jailer Reed and deputies carried Youtsey to the jail, as he was unable to walk. Various reasons are assigned for his outbreak, the first being that his long confinement and strain of the trial caused him to become hysterical and lose control of himself. Another is that he is really demented, as shown by his remark that Goebel was not dead. He is being attended by physicians and relatives at the jail and his condition is deemed critical.

DRED SCOTT DECISION.

REPUBLICAN POSITION IN 1860.

Ask the Same Ground Then as Now, That Congress Has Full Power to Govern All United States Territory Which Has Not Reached Statehood.

How the deadly virus of states rights, born of the determination to destroy the Union, if need be, to sustain human slavery, inhere in the Democracy! David B. Hill, of New York, in a speech at Brooklyn recently, declared that, "it is monstrous doctrine that the constitution does not extend to the territories." He added, by way of more complete explanation, that "it has only now been invoked to justify the proposed establishment of colonial governments, which are confessedly to be and to remain outside of the constitution." In this historical statement, Governor Hill is forty years out of the road; for the doctrine that he denounces was proudly incorporated by the Republican party in its national platform of 1860, upon which Abraham Lincoln stood at the time of his election to be president of the United States. The seventh plank in that platform reads:

"7. That the new dogma,—that the constitution, of its own force, carries slavery into any or all of the territories of the United States,—is a dangerous political heresy, at variance with the explicit provisions of that instrument itself, with contemporaneous exposition, and with legislative and judicial precedent; is revolutionary in its tendency and subversive of the peace and harmony of the country."

If this quotation is not plain enough to show the genesis of the present Democratic way of stating the doctrine that "the constitution follows the flag," that had its birth in support of human slavery, it is put beyond question by the eighth section of the Republican national platform of the same year, to-wit:

"8. That the normal condition of all the territory of the United States is that of freedom; that, as our republican fathers, when they had abolished slavery in all our national territory, ordained that 'no person should be deprived of life, liberty, or property without due process of law, it becomes our duty, by legislation, whenever such legislation is necessary, to maintain this provision of the constitution against all attempts to violate it; and we deny the authority of congress, of a territorial legislature, or of any individuals, to give legal existence to slavery in any territory of the United States."

There is the Democratic party arraigned forty years ago for setting aside the express provisions of the constitution itself, in order to force slavery into free territory. That too, as today, was done under the very identical plea that they now put forward, that "the constitution of its own force carries slavery into any territory of the United States." Mr. Hill knows perfectly well where the Democratic party got its pretended warrant for the doctrine that it advocated forty years ago, and which it has now revived. In support of it, he quoted a United States supreme court decision, which he gave as "19 Howard, 393-477," denying that congress has plenary power to rule territory at its discretion.

Mr. Hill is too good a lawyer not to know that the quotation, whose origin he thus concealed under technical phrase, was really that most detested opinion of Chief Justice Taney, known as the Dred Scott decision, by which control over the extension of the area of slavery was denied to congress and to any and every territory; and its right to indefinite expansion was declared by a majority of the supreme court to be implied in the very terms of the constitution.

By the Dred Scott decision slavery was "ordained to be the irreversible law of the republic," and the basis of that decision survives today in the Democratic national platform adopted at Kansas City July 5, 1900, in the smoothly stated but misleading words that "the constitution follows the flag." This was born of that infamous decision, which the war shot to pieces, when it destroyed human slavery. The Democratic occasion of that day for the false doctrine has been destroyed, but the doctrine still survives, as pernicious as ever.

BRYAN'S HALF-LIE

CONCERNING SUFFRAGE IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

No Citizen There Has a Vote, Whether He Be White or Black—Some Facts That Show the Futility of Bryan's Contentions About "Consent of the Governed."

Characteristic as one of Bryan's part truths that are more false than a full lie, is his reiteration that "the Republican party many years ago disfranchised the negro in the District of Columbia." And Bryan must surely know that for 25 years neither white nor black man has voted in the district, congress having disfranchised the citizens of the capital city for reasons it deemed fully sufficient. Thus right in the District of Columbia itself there has been for a quarter of a century, with the knowledge and consent of every party, complete proof of the power vested in congress over all territory of the United States not yet organized into states.

The three commissioners appointed by the president, without any part in their appointment by the residents of the district or its taxpayers, govern it absolutely under him, regulated only by such laws as the congress itself, elected from and for the entire country, may enact. Half of the entire expenditure of the district is paid in taxes by its property owners, and yet they can not vote. They are powerless to protect themselves, or to prevent any improper acts upon the part of their rulers. Here is indeed "taxation without representation," and that "without the consent of the governed." Washington City once had a council and an executive elected by its own people, but congress took these away years ago, and never a Democrat has yet said a word about this "bold and open violation of the nation's organic law," to quote the Porto Rico plank of the platform at Kansas City. All this, too, at the very capital of the nation, right under the immediate personal notice and knowledge of the United States supreme court, and of every Democratic senator and representative in congress. If ever anywhere "the constitution follows the flag," in the revived Democratic sense, the national capital, of all places, is the one for it. Yet here it is not, and has not been; and never one wail for it from the woe-mongers of the Democracy.

At this very hour, in Alaska, in Porto Rico, even in the Philippines, and in the Indian Territory itself, the local residents have more rights of self-rule than in the District of Columbia, for in all these territories there is local self-government, but there is not one bit of it in the District of Columbia.

SCHURZ'S FOOL IDEA.

Of all campaign absurdities the funniest is that Carl Schurz plan of electing Bryan, and then tying him up with a Republican congress. If he is right, he ought to have a congress of his own kind, and carry out his wildest notions. If he is wrong, he ought to be kept out of all chance for making mischief as president. The people of the country appreciate this exactly. An Iowa farmer hit it off to a nicety when he said to Dolliver the other day:

"They want us to elect Bryan and then tie him up, but I think the best way to keep him from doing any mischief is to tie him up to a haystack out on his farm in Nebraska and let him stay there. That is the best place for him."

"The people understand pretty well what the effect of electing Bryan will be, and they don't take much stock in this idea that his election will do no harm."

English and European expressions of sympathy for Bryan, and hope for his election, become more common and outspoken, and whenever found are traceable to their ill feeling over the loss of their trade gained by the United States under McKinley.

BRYAN ON MONEY.

HIS FALSE PROPHECIES MADE FOUR YEARS AGO.

Bryan prophesies that, in case of McKinley's election, the Union will be sacrificed to imperialism, and that every young man will have to enter the army. Bryan proved himself a poor prophet in 1896. At that time he said: "If McKinley and the Republican party should be victorious, and remain at the head of the government for the next four years, wages will be reduced and hard times will follow. The price of wheat will steadily decline, while that of gold will steadily rise; the capitalists will foreclose the mortgages on our homes; factories and workshops will be closed. We will not only not be able to export any goods, but will even have to import such for our own necessities. Ruin, suffering and misfortune will be our lot." Everybody knows that exactly the opposite happened.

In his despair Bryan grabs at the most foolish arguments to catch votes. Now he even harps about the German loan placed in New York. He calls attention to the fact that American capitalists fight with each other to make a loan which brings only 4 per cent, and asks whether it is one of the blessings of a gold standard that money leaves our country to go abroad—just as if the American people had such great love for the German government as to permit a monetary system which takes money abroad for investment. It is hardly worth while to waste time on such silly arguments. It serves, however, as an illustration of the fact that Bryan does not rely upon the principles of a statesman, but attempts to arouse the people with such fallacies. That he is not a friend of the Germans is well known, as he never had any use for a German, for his defeat in 1896 was their work. Bryan could not refrain from giving vent to his spite against the Germans, for soon after his defeat he said in a public meeting in Des Moines, Ia.:

"The last time we were defeated by the votes of foreigners. He had a majority of the American-born voters. The foreigners did not understand the issues at stake, and we could not furnish them the necessary campaign literature."

Of course, these ignorant foreigners, who could not understand Bryan, and who would not hear of his fraudulent silver dollar, were no others than the Germans.

A BRYAN DINNER PAIL.

"That the New York state Democratic organization is plainly for the gold standard," is the assertion of Charles J. Patterson, a prominent Brooklyn Democrat, who also says, "that the United States guarantees that every silver dollar issued by the government shall be maintained at equal value with each gold dollar." This is his interpretation of the money bill passed by the Republican congress against the Democratic opposition, but it is not strong enough to suit him,

for two mortgages recently taken by this good Bryan Democrat contain the stiffest sort of a stipulation for payment in gold. Four other Brooklyn money lenders have recently incorporated this gold provision in their mortgages, the call for them commencing at the start of the Bryan agitation.

Neither Bryan nor any other Democrat during the campaign has proposed a practical remedy, or in fact any one, for the trust evil. Once at Chicago Bryan suggested "that congress should pass a law providing that no corporation organized in any state should do business outside of the state in which it was organized until it received from some power created by congress a license authorizing it to do business outside of its own state."

Whether this would amount to anything or not, it suffers from a fatal defect—the decision of the United States supreme court that congress controls no corporations, except those engaged in commerce between the states, and that manufacturing is not such commerce.

This makes imperative a constitutional amendment; and, while Bryan in the same speech professed to favor it, his party voted solidly against such an amendment when they got the chance. The Democratic reason for opposition, too, is one that goes to the very root of the entire matter, because they base it upon that fundamental doctrine of Democracy, the rights of the states, too sacred to be touched.

Thus the Democratic position is that they are against an amendment, while the supreme court says, practically, that nothing can be done without an amendment. In a word, nothing can be done now or ever by the Democratic plan.

"Imperialism is the overshadowing issue," says Vice Presidential Candidate Stevenson in his letter to the Populists, accepting their nomination; also that all other questions are "but as dust in the balance." The matter of a man's livelihood may be a mere trifle to Mr. Stevenson, and, like Mr. Bryan, he makes light literally of the full dinner pail, but the wage-earner who has to stand the loss of his work and wages, and thus to pay the bills, may not think it "dust in the balance." A vote for Bryan is a vote for hard times.

While the Tagals murdered the rest of the Philippine people, and especially slaughtered all who had shown friendliness to the Americans, and a preference for peace, all under Bryan's "protectorate," how could the United States keep away the other powers of the world, and their military and naval protection of their own people and property? Pretty as catspaws for Aguinaldo would the American soldiers and sailors be, at his beck and call to fight whenever he quarreled. Yet that is the Bryan plan, his only one.

SIGNIFICANT FACT.

Two most significant facts of the current campaign in its relation to the newspapers of the country may well be considered together. One is that not a single religious newspaper is an outspoken Bryan sympathizer. This on the authority of one of his strongest mugwump newspaper supporters. Along with this goes the fact that scarcely a southern newspaper of prominence is vigorous in its support of Bryan, and some of the most caustic criticism of his speeches and actions in the campaign come from his nominal newspaper supporters in the south.
